NOTE.—The figures appended to the names indicate on what day of the sessions the commissioners first appeared.

The Stated Clerk announced that authentic information had been received of the organization of the Presbytery of Sao Paulo, in Brazil, South America : whereupon said Presbytery was ordered to be enrolled in connection with the Synod of Virginia, agreeably to the order of the last Assembly.

It having been announced that the Rev. William Flinn, from the Presbytery of New Orleans, was present without his commission, a Committee on Elections was appointed, consisting of Rev. S. R. Wilson, D. D. ; Rev. J. B. Adger, D. D., and P. Pond, to which this and any other similar cases were referred. This Committee after conference reported, recommending that the name of Mr. Flinn be enrolled. This report was adopted.

The Assembly then proceeded to the election of officers : when the Rev. T. R. Welch, D. D., of the Presbytery of Arkansas, was chosen Moderator, and the Rev. R. F. Bunting, D. D., of the Presbytery of Brazos, was chosen Temporary Clerk.

It was ordered that the daily sessions of the Assembly shall be held from 9½ o'clock A. M., till 3 o'clock P. M.

It was announced that an unknown friend had invited the members of the Assembly to attend at his expense a public lecture to be delivered this evening by the Rev. M. D. Hoge, D. D., in behalf of the Presbyterian Church in Manchester. The invitation was accepted, and the thanks of the Assembly were returned to the donor for his kindness.

The Assembly then adjourned till to-morrow morning, 9½ o'clock. Closed with prayer by the Moderator.

FRIDAY MORNING, May 17—9½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with reading the Scriptures and singing, and with prayer offered by the Rev. Dr. Hendrick.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

The following additional commissioners were reported and enrolled : the Rev. J. O. Sullivan, from the Presbytery of the Western District ; N. M. Roan, ruling elder from the Presbytery of Orange ; E. R. McLean, ruling elder from the Presbytery of Central Mississippi.

Certain overtures were read from the Presbytery of Ouachita, the Presbytery of Chickasaw, the Presbytery of South Alabama, the Presbytery of Cherokee, the Presbytery of Red River, the Presbytery of New Orleans, the Presbytery of West Hanover, the Presbytery of Augusta, the Presbytery of Montgomery, the Presbytery of Lexington, the Presbytery of Louisiana, the Synod of Memphis, and the Synod of North Carolina ; also, a communication concerning certain property in Greensboro', Georgia ; all of which were read and referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

A complaint of Samuel Galloway against the Synod of Georgia was referred to the Judicial Committee.

The Annual Report of the Trustees and Directors of Union Theological Seminary, and the Annual Report from the Trustees and Faculty of the Theological Seminary at Columbia, were read and referred to the Committee on Theological Seminaries.

An overture from the Presbytery of Nashville, requesting the removal of the Executive Committee of Publication from the city of Richmond to the city of Nashville, was read; and, on motion of Rev. J. H. McNeilly, was referred to the Standing Committee on Publication.

The Annual Report of the Executive Committee of Sustentation was read by the Secretary, Rev. J. Leighton Wilson, D. D.; which report, together with certain memorials from said committee, was referred to the Standing Committee on that subject.

The Annual Report from the Executive Committee of Education was read by the Secretary, Rev. E. T. Baird, D. D., which, together with the Book of Records, was referred to the Standing Committee on that subject.

The Moderator announced the following Standing Committees:

ON BILLS AND OVERTURES.—William S. Plumer, D. D., J. H. McNeilly, D. E. Frierson, F. H. Johnston, J. M. Wharey, D. L. Buttolph, D. P. Young, J. T. L. Preston, W. R. Lyman, P. F. Witherspoon, W. F. Robertson, J. Chambers, T. D. Chunn.

 TEXAS.—S. J. Love, John Glassel.
 VIRGINIA.—D. P. Young, W. Killen.

The Annual Report of the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions was read by the Secretary, Dr. J. L. Wilson ; which, together with the Treasurer's report, was referred to the Standing Committee on that subject.

The Rev. Dr. Doremus, from the Committee appointed by the last Assembly to consider a plan of providing for the family of the late Rev. E. B. Inslee, made a report, which was approved.

He also read a sketch of the life of Mr. Inslee ; which, on motion of Dr. S. R. Wilson, the Committee of Publication was directed to publish, with such additions as they may deem proper.

The Stated Clerk announced to the Assembly that the Rev. Horatio Thompson, D. D., was present, and had been enrolled as a delegate from the Associate Reformed Synod of the South ; also the Rev. A. B. Van Zandt, D. D., from the Reformed Church in America. The following resolutions, offered by the Rev. Dr. Adger, were adopted :

1. Resolved, That the Rev. Dr. Horatio Thompson, and the Rev. Dr. A. B. Van Zandt, be cordially invited immediately to seats on this floor, as the representatives of these sister Churches with which we are in correspondence.

2. Resolved, That it be the order of the day for Saturday, at 11 o'clock A. M., to hear the report of the delegate appointed by our last Assembly to the Associate Reformed Synod ; and after that to hear the Rev. Dr. Horatio Thompson, who comes to us from that body.

3. Resolved, That it be the order of the day for Tuesday, at 11 o'clock, to hear the report of the delegate appointed by our last Assembly to the Reformed Church in America, and after that to hear the Rev. Dr. Van Zandt, who comes to us from that body.

A communication from the Rev. David Wills, D. D., reporting his attendance as a corresponding delegate to the Synod of Missouri, and his cordial reception by that body, was received and approved.

A Committee having been appointed by the last Assembly to inquire and report to this Assembly "what means shall be used for bringing the Bible more prominently, impressively, and effectively as a means of grace before the minds of all who are entrusted to our care," a report from said Committee was presented, and was made the special order of the day for next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A report was received from the Rev. J. L. Kirkpatrick, D. D., chairman of a Committee appointed by a previous Assembly, to whom were referred certain memorials and overtures "on the improvement of theological education." (See Minutes of General Assembly for 1871, p. 18.) This report was for the present laid on the table.

The subject of fixing the place for the meeting of the next General Assembly having been taken up, it was determined that it shall be held in the Presbyterian Church, in the city of Little Rock, Arkansas.

The following resolution was offered by ruling elder J. T. L. Preston :

Inasmuch as the Directory for Worship of the Presbyterian Church prescribes an outline of prayer in the public worship of God, and suggests topics which are always appropriate to His people in their solemn assemblies in His house—such as adoration, supplication, and penitential confession of sins—would it be in accordance with the principles and early usages of the Presbyterian Church, and calculated to promote the decorum and devotional character of its public service, to introduce a few scriptural and well-considered forms, requiring responses on the part of the congregation; the use of such forms to be optional on the part of pastors conducting these services?

Resolved, That a committee be appointed by this Assembly to make to the next General Assembly a report responsive to the above enquiry.

This paper, after some discussion, was, on motion of Dr. S. R. Wilson, placed on the docket, and its further consideration made the order of the day for next Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

Adjourned till half-past nine o'clock to morrow morning. Closed with singing, and with prayer offered by the Rev. Dr. Armstrong.

SATURDAY MORNING, May 18—9½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with reading the Scriptures and singing, and with prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Hines.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

A. M. McPheeters, ruling elder from the Presbytery of Orange, appeared, and his name was entered on the roll.

It was ordered that on Monday night, at 8¼ o'clock, a public meeting shall be held in connection with the session of the Assembly, in behalf of the cause of Foreign Missions.

The reports of the Treasurer of the Executive Committees of Sustentation and Foreign Missions were referred to the Auditing Committee.

It was made the order of the day for Tuesday evening, at 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ o'clock, to hear the report of the Standing Committee on Sustentation.

The Committee of Bills and Overtures made the following report :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overtures Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, all relating to the constitution or location of the Executive Committees of the Assembly, and recommend that they all be put into the hands of the Committees of the Assembly on the subjects of Education and Sustentation, with a request that those committees give to these papers the consideration which the matter demands, and report to this body the result of their inquiry and deliberations.

This report, on motion of Dr. Armstrong, was amended by committing the overtures which refer to the Executive Committee of Sustentation to the Standing Committee on Sustentation and Foreign Missions, as a joint Committee, and in like manner those which relate to the Executive Committee of Education, to the Standing Committees on Publication and Education.

It was moved by the Rev. Dr. Howe, that the overture from the Presbytery of Nashville, asking the removal of the Executive Committee of Publication to Nashville, be referred to the Standing Committees on Publication and Education, to act as a joint Committee. This motion was laid on the table.

The Committee of Bills and Overtures presented a report on Overture No. 7; which, after considerable discussion, was adopted. The report is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 7, from the Presbytery of South Alabama, touching the relation of stated supplies to the churches they serve, and urging the early formation of the pastoral relation wherever it can be fitly done. The answer recommended is, that after some inquiry the committee think that Presbyteries are already using commendable diligence in forming the pastoral relation, as our system contemplates, and that where the plan of stated supplies is resorted to, it is in many, perhaps in most cases, the only thing that can save many of our churches from extinction. It does not occur to your committee that further action on this matter is now called for.

The Rev. Dr. Adger, from the Committee appointed by the Assembly of last year, presented a report on the revision of the Book of Discipline ; which was received and made the order of the day for Tuesday at 1 o'clock P. M.

The Annual Report of the Executive Committee of Publication was read by the Secretary, Rev. Dr. Baird, and was referred to the Standing Committee on that subject.

The Stated Clerk announced that he had received the following telegraphic dispatch from Charleston, South Carolina :

The State Sunday School Convention, now in session in this city, to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, at Richmond, Va., send greetings. God speed the combined work of feeding the sheep and feeding the lambs. "He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied."

J. H. CARLISLE, President.

W. C. POWER, Secretary.

On motion of Dr. Plumer, the Committee on Foreign Correspondence was directed to prepare and send a suitable answer. The Rev. Dr. Adger, on behalf of said Committee, reported, a short time after, the following answer :

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, met at Richmond, reciprocate the greetings of the South Carolina State Sunday School Convention, met in Charleston. We commend both them and ourselves to the love and care of the common Shepherd of the sheep and of the lambs. To His name be glory forever.

This report was approved.

The order of the day was then taken up.

The Stated Clerk reported that no formal report had been received from either the principal or the alternate delegates appointed by the last Assembly ; and that as the principal had failed to meet the appointment on account of sickness, he had sent an explanation of the circumstances to the Associate Reformed Synod at its last meeting.

The Rev. Horatio Thompson, D. D., Corresponding Delegate from the Associate Reformed Synod of the South, addressed the Assembly, conveying to it the cordial salutations of the body he represented. To this an appropriate response was made by the Moderator. The following report was presented :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 1, from the Presbytery of Nashville, asking the Assembly to take such steps as may be necessary to ordain a rule, requiring all licentiates to spend two years in itinerant missionary labors before becoming settled in a regular pastoral charge, except in extraordinary cases.

The committee recommend that the proposal be rejected. In many cases settled pastors are more needed than itinerant missionaries. Besides, our young men are licensed to preach the gospel wherever God in His providence may call them, at home or abroad. The whole frame of our system would be set aside by an attempt to retard the settlement of pastors wherever churches are or can be formed strong enough to sustain them.

A minority report from the Rev. J. H. McNeilly, a member of the committee, recommending action in accordance with the overture from the Presbytery of Nashville, was, after discussion, rejected, and the report of the committee was adopted.

The annual report of the Board of Trustees of the General Assembly was presented and read, and was referred to a committee consisting of Rev. Wm. S. Plumer, D. D., S. R. Wilson, D. D., C. F. Collier, T. E. Harrison, W. H. Clarke.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented a report, which is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 8, from the Presbytery of West Hanover, respecting the examination of ministers and licentiates passing from one Presbytery to another. As none deny the right of every Presbytery to be satisfied of the doctrinal opinions of all persons seeking its care or membership in it, as the injunction is highly promotive of peace and harmony, and has wrought much good and no evil, and as no one claims that the rule is constitutional, but only of the nature of a strong and urgent recommendation, your committee advise that no change be made respecting it.

Pending the consideration of this report, the Assembly adjourned till Monday morning at 9½ o'clock. Closed with prayer by ruling elder J. T. L. Preston.

MONDAY MORNING, May 20—9½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with reading the Scriptures and singing, and with prayer offered by Rev. Dr. Marshall.

The minutes of Saturday were read and approved.

An overture from the Synod of South Carolina was read, and referred to the Committee of Bills and Overtures.

It was appointed as the order of the day for 8¼ o'clock, on Wednesday evening, to hear the report of the Standing Committee on Education.

Copies of the "Revised Book of Discipline," printed by the "Committee of Revision," were, by order of the Assembly, distributed among the members for examination.

The Auditing Committee presented a report on the accounts of the Rev. Dr. Woodrow, and is as follows :

The Auditing Committee would report that they have carefully examined the books and accounts of the Rev. James Woodrow, D. D., Treasurer of Sustentation, and have found all to be correct, with every payment duly vouched for, and a balance in the Treasury on the 1st of April, 1872, of forty-five hundred and twelve dollars and seventy-seven cents ($4,512 77).

The Committee has also examined the books and accounts of Rev. James Woodrow, D. D., Treasurer of Foreign Missions, comparing all payments with vouchers, and find everything correct, with a balance due the Treasurer on the first day of April, 1872, of twenty-four hundred and three dollars and twenty-three cents ($2,403 23).

The Committee has also made due examination of the books and accounts of Rev. James Woodrow, D. D., as Treasurer of the Fund for Disabled Ministers, and Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers, finding all correctly kept, with full vouchers for all disbursements, and showing a balance due the Treasurer on the 1st day of April, 1872, of $160 26.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. HENRY SMITH,
GEO. M. EDGAR,

A communication of Dr. Woodrow to the Assembly, declining a re-election to the office of Treasurer, was referred to the Committees (jointly) on Foreign Missions and Sustentation.

The unfinished business of Saturday was taken up, viz: the report of the Committee of Bills and Overtures, No. 8, being the memorial of West Hanover Presbytery, concerning the examination of ministers coming from one Presbytery to another.

It was moved by Dr. Armstrong, that the overture be recommended to a Committee of five, with instructions to prepare a rule in a form suitable to be sent down to the Presbyteries for their action. After discussion, this motion was rejected, the vote standing, upon a division of the house, ayes—42; noes, 50. The whole subject was then, upon motion of Dr. S. R. Wilson, laid on the table.

The Judicial Committee presented the following report, which was adopted :

The Judicial Committee respectfully report to the Assembly, that the papers put into their hands are those relating to the complaint of Samuel Galloway vs. The Synod of Georgia. As the complainant has not appeared either in person or by representative, to prosecute his complaint, the committee recommend that the complaint be dismissed, and the papers be returned by the Stated Clerk to the complainant.

SAMUEL R. WILSON, Chairman.

The Committee of Bills and Overtures presented the following report, which was adopted :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 13, asking that a rule be adopted requiring that all memorials and overtures presented to the Assembly shall be read before they are referred to a committee. Your committee think such a rule would prove highly inconvenient, often vexatious, and sometimes impracticable, and so report adversely to the overture.

Also Overture No. 14, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 14, asking for a larger edition and wider circulation of the Minutes of the General Assembly. Your committee, with pleasure, inform the Assembly that an enlarged edition of the Minutes will hereafter be published, so that all who wish them can procure them. The Assembly has no fund with which to publish accounts of its proceedings, except as they are paid for by persons or Presbyteries. The proposal to suspend the publication of the annual reports of the several Executive Committees of the Assembly, and to levy a contribution from each of them, so as to scatter the Minutes of the Assembly gratuitously, would be injurious to the interests of said Executive Committee and to the work committed to them. Your committee therefore report adversely to the suggestions of the overture.

Also Overture No. 9, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 9, from West Hanover Presbytery, respecting the standard of qualifications for the sacred office. Your committee believe that the Presbyteries faithfully carry out the requirements of our Form of Government; that the standard of qualification for licensure and ordination actually reached among us was never higher than at present; that the measures proposed in the overture would embarrass the Committee of Education, and introduce invidious distinctions among candidates for the ministry. Your committee therefore recommend that the further consideration of the overture be dismissed.

Also Overture No. 12, which is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 12, relating to the public reading and exposition of the Scriptures, and recommend that said overture be put into the hands of the Special Committee already appointed on that subject.

This report was laid on the table, to be taken up in connection with the report of the committee presented on Friday.

The report submitted on Friday, from Rev. Dr. Kirkpatrick, was taken up, which, together with an overture from the Presbytery of Augusta, was referred to the Committee on Theological Seminaries.

• The following paper was presented, and adopted :

Whereas, John Cunningham, of the town of Greensboro', in the State of Georgia, did, by a certain deed, made 27th January, 1864, convey to Joseph R. Wilson, Robert A. Houston and James Woodrow, in trust, the property therein described as "The Greensboro' Female College," and its appurtenances of all sorts, the trust being to keep up a Presbyterian Female College, which trust cannot now be carried out; and whereas, said original Trustees have been changed, and the title of said property is now in the hands of Trustees legally appointed under said deed, who are desirous of conveying and disposing of the said property, to be used as a Presbyterian Church, or for the completion of a Presbyterian Church in said town, and repairing the same, and keeping up the same, in connection with this Assembly; and, whereas, John Cunningham hath agreed in a proper manner to such a change of trust; and, whereas, in the opinion of the General Assembly, such a change of trust is necessary; therefore, it is Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, representing as they do the parties of the second part in said deed, that such change of trust meets their approval.

The following report was presented by the Standing Committee on Education, and was adopted :

On Overture from Montgomery Presbytery, asking the General Assembly to change the rule, so that our college students may receive $200 per year instead of $175, your committee recommend the following: While we sympathize most heartily with our young men struggling with difficulties, and would most gladly afford relief from embarrassment which in many cases is serious, yet in view of the report of the Executive Committee, indicating as it does a want of means with which to meet appropriations made according to the existing rule, we do not think it prudent to change the rule under such circumstances. All that can be done at present, is to urge the Presbyteries to use means for developing a larger liberality among their churches, so that at an early day larger appropriations can be made when needed.

It was ordered that the Stated Clerk be authorized to print 2,000 copies of the Minutes of the Assembly for this year, if in his judgment it is necessary.

Adjourned to meet at 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ o'clock this evening. Closed with singing, and with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Plumer.

MONDAY NIGHT—8 $\frac{1}{4}$ o'clock.

The Assembly met, the Rev. Dr. Plumer presiding, and was opened with singing and with prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Sanderson.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions was read ; and after addresses before the Assembly and the congregation concerning this great cause, a contribution in its behalf was made, amounting to $328.66.

The Assembly then adjourned till to-morrow morning at 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock. Closed with the benediction.

TUESDAY MORNING, May 21—9 $\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with reading the Scriptures and singing, and with prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Flinn.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

It was announced to the Assembly that the Rev. W. W. Trimble was present, informally delegated to represent the Old School Synod of Missouri. It was referred to the Committee on Foreign correspondence to report to the Assembly such action as might be deemed appropriate.

An overture in the hands of the Moderator was referred without reading to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

The report of the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions, presented last night, was then taken up and adopted, and is as follows :

The Standing Committee on Foreign Missions report that they have examined the report of the Executive Committee, the Treasurer's report, and the Treasurer's bond accompanying that report, together with the minutes of the Executive Committee's monthly meetings, and recommend that the diligence and fidelity of the Executive Committee in the discharge of the duties entrusted to them be cordially approved.

They further recommend the adoption of the following resolution by the Assembly, viz :

Resolved, That in view of the special call which God in His providence is making upon our Church to enlarge and strengthen its missionary work, particularly in Brazil and China, we will endeavor to raise during the coming year the sum of $60,000 for Foreign Missions.

The same Committee made a further report, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Standing Committee on Foreign Missions report that they have examined the report and accompanying papers of the Special Committee on the Inslee Fund, and recommend that the diligence and fidelity of this Committee be cordially approved, the Committee be discharged, and the report be placed in the hands of the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions for preservation.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reported, recommending that the Rev. W. W. Trimble be heard, as representing the Old School Synod of Missouri, immediately after the order of the day in regard to the delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Church. This report was adopted.

The Report presented by the Committee last Friday concerning the reading of the Scriptures, was taken up, and in connection with it the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures on Overture No. 12. After some discussion and amendment, the further consideration was interrupted by the order of the day, which was taken up.

The Rev. J. H. Bryson, the delegate appointed by the last Assembly to the Reformed Church, made a report in regard to the performance of the duty assigned him, and the cordial reception he had met with from that body. This report was approved, and is as follows :

To the Moderator of the General Assembly to meet at Richmond, Va., on May 16th, 1872 :

In accordance with the appointment of the last General Assembly, at its sessions in Huntsville, Ala., I attended the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, which met in the city of Albany, New York, on June the 7th, 1871.

It affords me much pleasure to report that I was received by that body with the greatest cordiality and Christian friendship, as the first delegate from the General Assembly of our Church. My reception was an occasion of intense interest, as I was to respond to their friendly overtures. And when I stood up before that venerable Synod to assure them that our General Assembly most cordially accepted their kind propositions touching a fraternal correspondence, and that I was commissioned to bear to them the warm salutations and Christian sympathies of our Church, every heart seemed to overflow with rejoicing at the happy issue of the matter they had ventured to propose. Again and again did I receive the warmest congratulations touching the fraternal alliance that was now so favorably established between the two bodies. Nothing was wanting to make my mission everything I could wish for the beloved Church I was honored to represent ; and I cannot too strongly express the earnest and warm cordiality that characterized my reception by that noble Christian people.

The Synod heard with pleasure and profound interest all that I communicated touching our beloved Zion, her doctrines, her history, her trials, and the good work she was endeavoring to accomplish for the cause of our common Lord and King. They expressed their earnest gratification at the wonderful success that had attended all our operations, and assured us that they would ever feel a deep interest in all that pertained to our future welfare and prosperity.

On taking my leave, I was charged to bear back to the beloved Church I represented their warmest salutations and Christian sympathies, and I was instructed to give the assurance that they were ready, through the fraternal alliance now so favorably established, to co-operate with us in every suitable way to advance the interests of the glorious kingdom of our common Lord and Master.

During the sessions of the General Synod, the Rev. Dr. Van Zandt was appointed to attend the next session of our General Assembly, to be held in the city of Richmond, Va., on the 16th of May, 1872.

Very respectfully,

J. H. BRYSON.

The Rev. A. B. Van Zandt, the delegate present from that Church, was then introduced, and addressed the Assembly on the subject of his mission. To this address the Moderator made a suitable response.

The Rev. W. W. Trimble was then introduced, and addressed the Assembly in behalf of the Old School Synod of Missouri ; to which address the Moderator appropriately responded. At the close of these interesting proceedings, the General Assembly and congregation present united in singing a part of the 301st hymn :

“One army of the living God,” &c.

The next order of the day was taken up, viz : the paper offered on Friday by ruling elder J. T. L. Preston, in regard to providing some liturgical forms for the use of our Church. After discussion, the motion to adopt this paper was rejected, and the ayes and noes having been called for, they are as follows :

AYES—Minister : Wm. McKay. Elders : G. M. Edgar, W. A. Moore, J. D. Anderson, J. T. L. Preston—5.

NOES—Ministers : Robert Nall, G. W. Boggs, D. D. Sanderson, T. R. Welch, M. J. Wallace, A. G. Peden, J. De Witt Burkhead, D. L. Buttolph, F. Jacobs, D. H. Porter, J. B. Blaney, L. H. Blanton, S. R. Wilson, J. S. Grasty, J. T. Hendrick, D. P. Young, M. Van Lear, W. A. Gray, R. R. Evans, W. T. Savage, J. O. Sullivan, A. H. Mecklin, J. E. C. Doremus, M. W. Trawick, W. Finn, C. Harrington, S. J. Love, J. D. Tadlock, J. A. Wallace, J. H. McNeilly, J. S. Frierson, Wm. W. Pharr, J. H. Coble, R. B. Anderson, E. Hines, F. H. Johnston, J. Kelly, J. L. Wilson, Geo. Howe, Wm. S. Plumer, D. E. Frierson, R. F. Bunting, J. A. Smylie, W. K. Marshall, W. M. Kilpatrick, J. Lyons, J. W. Lupton, G. D. Armstrong, M. L. Lacy, R. J. Taylor, I. W. K. Handy, P. B. Price, W. H. Matthews, J. M. Wharey, G. W. White. Ruling Elders : H. H. Smith, A. M. Sherrill, J. A. Billups, T. D. Chunn, G. Dowse, W. K. Moore, P. B. Brokaw, D. F. Wilcox, T. Q. Cassels, Wm. Killen, C. Chambers, W. H. Clark, W. C. Hanna, C. H. Reike, W. H. McAfee, P. F. Witherspoon, A. C. Ewell, E. R. Gill, E. R. McLean, P. Pond, W. R. Lyman, John Glassell, W. A. Moseley, Joshua Ewing, J. S. McDonough, W. H. Smith, R. G. McClure, A. C. McIntosh, J. S. Reid, N. M. Roan, A. M. McPheeters, W. J. Boney, J. R. Schorb, W. J. Robertson, T. C. Law, H. L. McGowan, F. E. Harrison, D. McGregor, A. G. Matthews, G. F. Anderson, C. F. Collier, J. M. Sydenstricker, J. Lane, F. Johnston, W. G. Friend, F. E. G. Carr, F. S. Welton—102.

Non liquet—J. B. Adger.

The Assembly adjourned till 8½ o'clock this evening. Closed with prayer by ruling elder C. F. Collier.

TUESDAY EVENING—8½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and after other devotional exercises, prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Howe.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Sustentation was presented, and after addresses delivered before the Assembly and congregation, the Assembly adjourned till 9½ o'clock to-morrow morning.

Closed with singing the doxology, and with the benediction by the Moderator.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, May 22—9½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with reading the Scriptures and singing, and with prayer offered by the Rev. Dr. Handy.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Sustentation, presented last night, was taken up, and was adopted. This report is as follows :

The Standing Committee on Sustentation, respectfully report to the General Assembly that they have examined with care the report of the Secretary of Sustentation, and the papers which accompany it, embracing the minutes of the Sustentation Committee, the accounts of the Treasurer, furnishing a statement of all the moneys expended by him under the direction of the Committee during the past year, giving the names of all the parties receiving aid from the Committee, with the date and the amounts paid; and find them all correct. Accompanying these papers are certain memorials from the Executive Committee to the General Assembly, which they have also considered.

The committee recommend the adoption, by the General Assembly, of the following resolutions, viz :

1. That the General Assembly cordially commend the diligence and fidelity of the Executive Committee of Sustentation in discharging the arduous and important duties assigned to them.

2. That the General Assembly again urge upon the Presbyteries the importance of continued and increased diligence in laboring to stir up the churches under their care to a still greater liberality in contributing of their money to this cause, as God has prospered them, that ample means may be placed in the hands of the Committee to enable them efficiently to do the work entrusted to them.

3. That the Presbyteries be urged to devise and recommend to the vacant churches under their care some plan, if possible, by which they may be assembled together at least once every Sabbath day for conference and worship.

Touching the matter embraced in the memorials presented to the General Assembly, the Committee recommend :

- 1st. That in compliance with the request of the memorialist, it be ordered that the time for taking up the general collection for the Evangelistic work, be changed from the first Sabbath in April to the first Sabbath in September.

- 2nd. That the Committee be instructed to make no appropriation of funds for the support of any other missionary laborers than ordained ministers or licensed probationers.

- 3rd. That the by-laws of the Committee of Sustentation be amended by appending to the third rule thereof the following clause :

“And no appropriation shall be made to a church or union of churches for a period of more than five consecutive years, except under extraordinary cases, or except where they are strictly classed as missionary churches.”

- 4th. That the Assembly have learned with pleasure that the number of churches and ministers necessary to put the Relief scheme into operation has been secured, and would earnestly commend this cause to the attention of the churches.

- 5th. That the Executive Committee be authorized to appoint two Investing Committees, consisting each of two laymen, with the Secretary of the Executive Committee as ex-officio member of both, to be located the one in Baltimore, and the other in Augusta, Georgia.

6th. The following persons are hereby constituted the Executive Committee of Sustentation for the ensuing twelve months, viz: Rev. J. Leighton Wilson, D. D., Secretary; — — —, Treasurer; Rev. George Howe, D. D., Rev. J. B. Adger, D. D., Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., Rev. A. W. Miller, D. D., Rev. J. R. Girardeau, D. D., Rev. D. McQueen, D. D., Gen. F. W. McMaster, C. A. Rowland, Esq., and Joseph A. Enslow, Esq.

The following report, from the Committee of Bills and Overtures, was adopted:

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 16, from the Presbytery of Ouachita, respecting some matters of discipline, and recommend that the papers be returned to the parties from whom they come. In this action the Assembly will probably consult the wishes of most of the brethren concerned, and will most edify the Church of God.

Also, Overture No. 16, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overture No. 15, from the Presbytery of Ebenezer, and recommend this reply: that when an elder is appointed to attend a stated meeting of Presbytery, he may, without any new appointment, meet and act with the Presbytery until its next stated meeting, unless the session shall appoint some other member of its bench of elders to attend in his place.

The following paper, in relation to the communication of Rev. Dr. Woodrow, was adopted:

The Standing Committees on Sustentation and Foreign Missions, in joint session, to whom was referred the letter of the Rev. Dr. Woodrow, asking that he might not be appointed to the office of Treasurer of Sustentation and Foreign Missions, report to the Assembly:

1. That the reason assigned for this request by Dr. Woodrow, viz: his impaired health, and the imperative direction of his physician that he cease from all labor for a season, render it the duty of the Assembly to comply with that request.

2. In view of the long and faithful services of Dr. Woodrow, rendered in times of great trial, to the Church, and the knowledge of the fact that it is to this service, in part, we must trace his impaired health, the Assembly cannot part with him without recording its devout thanksgiving to God, who has spared him in health to us so long, and the earnest prayer that He in whose hands man's life is, may speedily restore him to perfect health again.

The order of the day was taken up, when the Committee on the Revision made a report, and presented a Revised Book of Discipline for the consideration of the Assembly. The following resolution was offered by the Rev. Dr. Armstrong:

Resolved, That, in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee of Revision, the Book of Discipline, as reported by them, be sent down to the Presbyteries, to be by them either adopted as it stands, or to be further criticised, and their criticisms sent up to the Assembly, as they may elect.

The Rev. S. R. Wilson, D. D., moved to amend by adopting the following substitute:

The General Assembly having heard and considered the Report of the Committee of Revision, upon a review of the whole subject which has now for so long a time agitated the mind of the Church, and occupied the attention of successive Assemblies, do adopt the following, as their final minute in the premises, viz:

1. They approve of the care and diligence with which the Committee have prosecuted their labors, and to each and all the members of said Committee would express the thanks of the Church for the assiduity and fidelity with which they have discharged the duty laid upon them.

2. The Assembly expresses no opinion in regard to the Rules of Discipline as now submitted by the Committee, either as to the general principles or the details contained therein.

3. In full view of the facts bearing upon this matter of the Revision of the Constitution of the Church, the Assembly deem it inexpedient to send down to the Presbyteries the Rules of Discipline reported by the Committee, or further to continue the agitation of this subject in the Church.

4. It is, therefore, Resolved, That the revision of the Form of Government and Book of Discipline be indefinitely postponed, and that the Committee of Revision be, and they are hereby, discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

It was determined that the order for to-night be changed to 12 o'clock M. to-morrow, and that when the Assembly adjourns to-day, it will adjourn to meet at 8½ o'clock this evening.

The Joint Committees of Foreign Missions and Sustentation made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committees of Sustentation and Foreign Missions, in joint session, have carefully considered the questions committed to them by the General Assembly touching the division and removal of the Committees of Sustentation and Foreign Missions, and respectfully report to the General Assembly for their adoption the following resolutions, viz:

1. Resolved, That in the judgment of this Assembly it is inexpedient to make any change at present in the location or constitution of these Committees.

2. That the Assembly appoint a co-ordinate Secretary, who shall also act as Treasurer, to assist the Secretary of Sustentation and Foreign Missions.

Adjourned till 8½ o'clock this evening. Closed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Evans.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT—8½ o'clock P. M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Buttolph.

It was made the order of the day for to-morrow, immediately after the consideration of the Report of the Standing Committee on Education, to receive the Report of the Standing Committee on Publication.

The unfinished business was taken up, and, after discussion, the paper offered by the Rev. S. R. Wilson, D. D., was rejected, the vote being, upon a division of the house—ayes, 38; noes, 52.

The resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. Armstrong was then adopted, the vote, upon a division of the house, being—ayes, 50 ; noes, 38.

Adjourned till to-morrow morning, 9½ o'clock. Closed with prayer by Rev. Dr. Nall.

THURSDAY MORNING, May 24—9½ o'clock.

The Assembly met and was opened with reading the Scriptures, and singing, and with prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Van Lear.

The minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence would recommend to the Assembly that the following appointments be made of delegates from this body to other Churches, viz :

To the Reformed Church in America : Dr. M. D. Hoge, principal ; Dr. J. R. Wilson, alternate.

To the Associate Reformed Synod of the South : Rev. John Douglas, principal ; Dr. A. W. Miller, alternate.

To the Synod of Missouri : Dr. J. S. Grasty, principal ; Rev. W. W. Dinwiddie, alternate.

To the Cumberland Presbyterian Church : Rev. P. B. Price, principal ; Rev. R. J. Taylor, alternate.

It was made the order for 11 o'clock, this morning, to elect a co-ordinate Secretary and Treasurer of Sustentation and Foreign Missions.

The Special Committee to consider the Report of the Board of Trustees, made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee appointed to consider the Report of the Trustees of the General Assembly have performed that duty, and recommend the adoption of the following resolutions :

1. Resolved, That the thanks of the General Assembly are due, and are hereby tendered, to the Trustees of the General Assembly for their diligence and ability in caring for the interests intrusted to them.

2. Resolved, That the Assembly concur with the Trustees of the General Assembly as to the difficulty of the Secretaries of our Executive Committees being ex-officio members of the corporation of the Trustees of the General Assembly ; but if members at all, they should as persons, by name, be duly appointed members of the corporation.

The Committee of Bills and Overtures reported Overture No. 17, which was adopted, and is as follows :

In response to Overture No. 17, from the Synod of South Carolina, the Committee of Bills and Overtures recommend that the third Thursday of November next be observed as a day of special thanksgiving to God for His mercies to us as a Church, and of humiliation and earnest supplication to God for an abundant outpouring of His Spirit on all our pastors and congregations.

An Overture (No. 18) having been sent up from certain members of the Presbytery of Lexington, requesting an answer to the question whether it is proper for ministers of our Church to administer baptism by immersion, the following answer, reported by the Committee of Bills and Overtures, was adopted :

Our Confession of Faith teaches that "dipping of the person into water is not necessary, but baptism is rightly administered by pouring or sprinkling water upon the person;" and our Directory prescribes "pouring or sprinkling water on the face of the child, without adding any other ceremony." This Assembly judges that for a Presbyterian minister to baptize by immersion is such a departure from the ways approved in our standards as should be discouraged.

Also, on Overtures Nos. 10 and 11, which was adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee of Bills and Overtures report Overtures Nos. 10 and 11, asking for changes in the form of statistical tables. Your Committee report adversely to any change at the present time.

The Committee also reported Overture No. 19, from the Presbytery of Brazos asking a change in the mode of raising the commissioners' fund. The report of the Committee was adverse to a change; but the Committee of Finance were authorized to make an additional assessment upon the Presbyteries sufficient to increase the present contingent fund to the amount of $500.

The Standing Committee on Systematic Benevolence made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows :

Reports from thirty-eight Presbyteries under the care of the General Assembly have been put into the hands of this Committee. Five of them, however, are so imperfect in detail, and irregular in form, that they furnish no definite information beyond the gratifying statement, which characterizes nearly all of these reports, that the general subject of Systematic Benevolence seems to be receiving increased attention on the part of the Churches represented.

On comparing these reports with those presented to the last Assembly, we find the following facts :

Seven Presbyteries are added this year to the number of those reporting to the General Assembly.

Two hundred and eight Churches have contributed to all five of the objects ordered by the Assembly.

One hundred and eighty-four Churches have contributed to four of them.

One hundred and fifty-four to three of them.

One hundred and seventy-seven to two of them.

One hundred and ninety-six to one of them, and two hundred and forty-six to none of them.

As far as these reports cover the ground, some advancement seems to have been made in the direction of this important subject during the year. For example, as already stated, a larger number of Presbyteries have reported to the Assembly. Sixty-four Churches have been added to the list of those contributing to all five of the objects recommended by the Assembly, and there is indicated among our people a growing tendency to fall in with the Scriptural plan of regular, stated and systematic contributions of their substance to the Lord.

We mark these indications of advancement with thankfulness to Him who worketh in us both to will and to do; but we cannot close our eyes to the fact that, as a Church, we are yet very far below the standard prescribed upon this subject in the word of God, both as to the matter and the method of meeting the obligation. It is surprising, to say the least, that notwithstanding so many injunctions issued by the Assembly touching this duty, and notwithstanding the fact that full and explicit forms have been provided, and can be procured for the purpose, there should still be seventeen Presbyteries not reporting at all, and two hundred and forty-six Churches reported as not contributing to any one of these five objects of Christian benevolence. Doubtless in many instances, both of Presbyteries and Churches, sufficient cause for this state of things would appear if we understood all the circumstances of the case. In some of these reports the failure on the part of the Churches is attributed to their being either vacant, or only occasionally, and at long intervals, supplied with the ministry of the word; but we respectfully submit whether it be not the duty of the eldership of these vacant Churches to afford the people at least an opportunity of giving something to speed the work of the Kingdom; and as to those Churches which are fully or occasionally supplied with preaching, but which respond not at all, or only in part, to the Master's call, may not the responsibility rest, in a measure at least, upon the ministry, in that we fail to inform ourselves sufficiently concerning the objects contemplated in the work, and consequently fail to instruct and interest our people?

Your Committee would enter into no argument upon this subject. It is no longer a debatable question whether God's people should freely contribute of their worldly goods to His cause, or whether the best means of overtaking the duty, in its fullness and efficiency, is by adopting and pursuing a regular, systematic plan, determined by the suggestions of a consecrated heart, by the dictates of an enlightened conscience, and by the leadings of divine Providence. These points are settled beyond controversy.

But we would respectfully suggest that the General Assembly adopt, and urge upon all our Presbyteries, the following resolutions:

1st. That earnest efforts be made to secure full and accurate reports from all the churches under their care, upon the subject of Systematic Benevolence; and that the Presbyteries themselves fail not to report thereupon to the General Assembly, in accordance with the form prescribed for that purpose.

2. That Presbyteries urge upon pastors, stated supplies, missionaries and ruling elders, the importance of acquainting themselves as fully as possible with the benevolent schemes of the Church, so that their own hearts may be more deeply engaged in the work, and that they may be the better able to inform and guide the people.

3rd. That special attention be paid to the instruction and training of the children and youth of the churches in the principles of systematic giving to the Lord; so that the habit may be early formed, and the next generation be educated to a higher degree of efficiency in the discharge of this duty than the present.

4th. That the Presbyteries urge their churches to make their contributions, as far as possible, in connection with the public services of the sanctuary; thus recognizing the oblation as an act of worship, as well as a Christian duty.

In answer to the Memorial presented to the Assembly by the Secretary of Foreign Missions and Sustentation, and which was referred to this Committee, we recommend the adoption, by the Assembly, of the suggestions contained, to wit:

1st. That the collections for the Evangelistic work, in all our churches, be made on the first Sabbath in September, of each year, or as near thereto as convenient, instead of the first Sabbath in April, as ordered by the last Assembly.

2nd. That the collections made in connection with the Monthly Concert of Prayer, on the alternate months (i. e., on the first Sabbath in February, April, June, August, October and December), be devoted to Foreign Missions.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by order of the Committee, &c.

DAVID H. PORTER, Chairman.

The Committee on the Narrative made a report, which was adopted. (See Appendix.)

The Assembly took up the order of the day, and proceeded to the election of a co-ordinate Secretary of Sustentation and Foreign Missions, prayer having been offered by the Rev. Dr. Armstrong for divine guidance. The Rev. Richard McIlwaine was duly elected, and by a vote of the Assembly this election was made unanimous.

A committee, consisting of Rev. Messrs. Armstrong and Flinn, was designated by the Moderator to inform Mr. McIlwaine of this appointment.

The Committees of Sustentation and of Foreign Missions were appointed, to consist of the persons mentioned in the report of the Standing Committee, the name of Mr. McIlwaine being added as above.

The order of the day was postponed to receive the following report, which was adopted :

The Standing Committee of Publication report to the Assembly that they have had the Overture of the Presbytery of Nashville, requesting the Assembly to order the removal of the Executive Committee of Publication to the city of Nashville, under consideration, and they recommend that the Overture be answered in the negative, deeming it inexpedient to make any change in the location of the Committee at present.

Dr. Armstrong (at the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Baird) offered the following, which was adopted :

Resolved, That the thanks of this General Assembly be returned to the Christian people of our Church in the city of Nashville for the generous subscription they have tendered us, designed for the purchase of a Publishing House in that city. Although the Assembly has felt constrained to decline the proposal of the Presbytery of Nashville, backed by such a generous subscription, for reasons pertaining to the general interests of the whole Church, it feels constrained to enter on record its grateful appreciation of their liberality to this Committee, manifested not only on this occasion, but also in their contributions previously made to the endowment fund. It would present the example of the city of Nashville to the attention of our Churches, with the hope that they may thereby be stimulated to a like liberality.

The following report was presented and adopted :

The Joint Committees of Publication and Education, to whom were referred the Overture from the Synod of Memphis, requesting the return of the Committee of Sustentation and Education to their original locations, the Overture of the Presbytery of Red River to the same effect, the Memorial of the Presbytery of Chickasaw touching the Committee of Education, the Overture of the Presbytery of Montgomery of the same import, and the resolution of the Presbytery of Western District, protesting against the action of the Synod of Memphis asking for the removal, report to the Assembly that they have duly considered the same, and recommend for adoption the following resolution :

Resolved, That in answer to Overtures Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6, referred from the Committee of Bills and Overtures to these joint Committees, no change be made for the present, either as to the division or removal of the Executive Committees of Publication and Education.

The order of the day was then taken up. The Standing Committee of Education made a report ; which was amended in the third resolution and adopted, and is as follows :

The Committee on Education report that they have carefully examined the Minutes of the Executive Committee, and find in them evidence of diligence and fidelity, and therefore recommend their approval.

The year's work, as presented in the Committee's Annual Report, furnishes much for thankfulness, and also encouragement for greater zeal and fidelity on the part of the Church. In looking back over the few years of the past, we may truly say, "the Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Amidst the broken down walls of our beloved Zion, with schools and seminaries deserted, an impoverished people, with an inadequate ministry, prayed the Lord of the harvest that He would send forth laborers into the harvest. The Lord hearkened and heard, and gave to His people an unmistakable answer to their prayer. For this we should build our monument in token of gratitude for the past, and for present and future encouragement. But as the promise, "The morning cometh and also the night," seems to mingle hope with warning, so the history especially of the past year, while it has its encouragement, has also its warning.

Your Committee have thought it proper to call the attention of the General Assembly to the following facts and suggestions, as embodied in the Annual Report:

1st. There has been an increase of candidates and of contributions, with a less deficit than that of last year. This latter is partly owing to the fact that there was no deduction made from the receipts on account of officers' salaries, these having been met by funds belonging to the Committee of Publication. We recommend the approval of the action of the Committee in this case, as being possibly best under the peculiar circumstances, with the distinct understanding that it shall not be regarded as a precedent hereafter.

2d. In order to meet the deficit which must occasion very great embarrassment to our young men, if not met promptly, your Committee recommend that the Secretary of Education be directed to issue immediately an appeal in circular form to the churches under the Assembly's care, setting forth the necessities of the case, and also that the same be done just before the time of taking up the next annual collection.

3d. For the purpose of simplifying the business of the Committee, and presenting in a single tabular form all that the Church does from year to year, it is recommended that all the funds contributed to this object be forwarded to the Treasurer of the Executive Committee, and reported to the Presbyterial Committee.

4th. Believing that there are some in every congregation who would not only willingly, but gladly contribute something to aid in educating men to preach the gospel, if the opportunity were afforded, the General Assembly does hereby enjoin it upon all the Presbyteries to see that such opportunity be given to all the churches within their respective bounds during the coming year.

5th. With abiding faith in prayer as a means of securing laborers for the world's great harvest field, it is recommended that the custom of observing the last Thursday of February as a day of prayer be continued.

6th. For the ensuing year it is recommended that the following persons be elected as Executive Committee of Education: Rev. E. T. Baird, D. D., Secretary; Charles Gennet, Esq., Treasurer; Drs. M. D. Hoge, William Brown, C. H. Read, Rev. E. H. Rutherford, Rev. T. L. Preston, Rev. W. A. Campbell, W. F. Taylor, Esq., B. R. Wellford, Esq., and E. H. Fitzhugh, Esq.

The Standing Committee on Publication presented the following report, which was adopted :

The Standing Committee on Publication have had under examination the books and records of the Executive Committee, their stock in trade and arrangements at the Publishing House; and commend the diligence, order, and exactness exhibited in the conduct of its business in the several departments.

The contributions to this cause during the year have been $8,411 05, of which $1,518 58 were for the endowment fund, which, with this addition, now amounts to $35,007 99. Four hundred dollars was for the publication of the writings of Dr. Thornwell; $4,589 21 have been expended in gratuitous distribution, leaving but $1,903 26 for business purposes. The receipts from the Earnest Worker and Children's Friend have been $8,368 36, and from sales $27,477 84.

There has been an increase in the business transactions of the Committee amounting to $5 570 94. The net assets are set down at $40,255 05, an increase of $825 90 over those reported last year.

There have been printed and bound 37,450 volumes, and 534,000 Catechisms, Catalogues, pamphlet Hymn-Books, Tracts and Envelopes.

The surplus accumulated during previous years from business transactions has been diminished, in part, by the discount of twenty per cent. on purchases which have been granted during the last two years; partly from the lack of sufficient capital; partly from the increase in the ordinary expenses of conducting the business; and partly from the fact that the pressure on the Committee of Education has rendered it necessary to pay the entire salaries of the joint officers of these Committees from the resources of the Committee of Publication.

Your Committee would recommend the adoption by the Assembly of the following resolutions, covering certain points referred to the Assembly by the Executive Committee:

1. The Assembly expresses its approval of the manner in which the Committee have carried out the suggestion of the Assembly of 1870, as to an uniform lesson for Sabbath Schools, and its desire that they should extend it to other portions of Scripture, at their discretion, when the gospel of Matthew shall be completed. The attention of Sessions and Superintendents of these schools is called to this system, the use of which has proved so satisfactory and beneficial where it has been introduced and faithfully pursued.

2. That attention be also called to the Sabbath School Hymn-Book, and Tune-Book, issued under the title of "The Voice of Praise," the preparation of which was undertaken at the suggestion of the same Assembly, and the publication ordered by the Assembly of 1871, the use of which in our Sabbath Schools will train our children to take part in the fellowship of song as conducted in the sanctuary.

3. That the Assembly expresses its approbation of the principles on which the preparation of a Tune and Hymn-Book for churches, recommended by the two last Assemblies, has been conducted. These, and the labor on the part of the Secretary which has been bestowed upon it, are the best securities of its receiving the approbation, and meeting the wants of the Church when it shall be completed. The thanks of the Assembly are also due, and are hereby tendered to Charles C. Converse, Esq., of New York city, for his valuable labors as Musical Editor, bestowed in the preparation of both of these works.

4. That the Committee be advised to add a brief abstract of religious news to the columns of the Earnest Worker, for the benefit of those whose means do not allow them to take any other religious paper.

5. The application of the missionaries in Brazil to have one page or more of the Children's Friend printed in Portuguese, in a sufficient number of copies to meet the wants of the mission, is referred by the Executive Committee to the General Assembly for its direction. This Committee recommended that the Assembly authorize the Executive Committee to comply with this request, as they have previously done as to the publication of the Shorter Catechism and a Spelling Book in the Choctaw for the use of the mission among the Indians of that tribe. And that they further authorize the publication of tracts in Portuguese, provided the expense and responsibility of the translation of the same be borne by the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions.

6. The Endowment Fund of the Executive Committee of Publication, notwithstanding the generous contributions obtained for it at its inception, in New Orleans, Mobile, Memphis and Nashville, and the liberal donations from certain individuals which it thus received, and the $1,518 58 added to it the last year, still lacks $14,993 of the 50,000 originally proposed. The attention of the Presbyteries that have not made up their proportion of this amount is directed to the tabular statement of the sum needed from them. They are enjoined to use all diligence to procure from their congregations their sums and forward them as early as practicable.

This recommendation should not prevent any wise measures the Executive Committee may adopt for the increment of this fund, which is not likely to be larger than is needed to accomplish the objects the Church has in view.

The Committee recommend that the Assembly appoint the following as the Executive Committee for the ensuing year: Rev. E. T. Baird, D. D., Secretary; Charles Gennet, Treasurer; Drs. M. D. Hoge, William Brown, C. H. Read, Rev. E. H. Rutherford, Rev. Thomas L. Preston, Rev. W. A. Campbell, Hon. W. F. Taylor, Hon. E. H. Fitzhugh, and Hon. B. R. Wellford.

On motion of Dr. Adger, the Committee of Publication was instructed to forward without delay one copy of the Revised Rules of Discipline to every minister, and one to every session of the Church, with a view to the examination of it at the next meeting of the Presbyteries.

The Auditing Committee presented the following report, which was adopted:

The Auditing Committee would report that they have carefully examined the accounts of the Treasurer of the Executive Committees of Education and Publication, and have compared them with his books and with the vouchers for every item; and they report all to be correct and satisfactory in every respect.

The Committee beg to report also having examined the books and vouchers of Rev. Jos. R. Wilson, D. D., Treasurer of the General Assembly, and find them correct and satisfactory; amount of receipts having been $1,090, and of disbursements, $1,063 65, leaving a balance in the treasury of $26 35.

D. F. WILLCOX, Chairman.

The Assembly then adjourned till 8½ o'clock this evening. Closed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Love.

THURSDAY NIGHT—8½ o'clock.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Wallace.

The Standing Committee on Sabbath Schools made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

Your Committee have the happiness of presenting to your venerable body a most encouraging account of the operations of the Church in this department during the past year. The material furnished them for their report is more copious than has been furnished in any previous year. In 1869, reports were received from only 18 of the 54 Presbyteries, and many of them extremely meagre. In 1870, 38 Presbyteries out of 55 reported, and in 1871, 38, yet the reports being in like manner defective. At this Assembly reports from 44 of the 55 Presbyteries have been received.

This marked increase of attention to duty in this regard, on the part of the churches and Presbyteries, leads us to the pleasing inference that as they are more attentive to duty in the matter of reporting, they must be more attentive to the work in regard to which they are required to report. We have also, in this fact, an illustration of the potency of the Assembly's injunctions; for this increased attention to the duty of reporting has been effected mainly by this means.

A large portion of the reports handed in are full and satisfactory. But their value is impaired by the fact that another large portion are defective and meagre. The reports also vary in form. Thirty of them are made out in the form prescribed by the General Assembly; but only twelve give answers to the questions ordered by the last General Assembly. Fourteen of the forty-four reports seem wholly to ignore the fact that the Assembly ever prescribed a form.

While it is highly gratifying that so many Presbyteries have this year reported, your Committee feel it incumbent on them to say that the persistent neglect by any Presbytery or church of the repeated order of the Assembly in this so simple, yet so important a matter, is specially reprehensible. Yet, eleven Presbyteries have sent up to this Assembly no account of their doings.

That a more complete annual review of the operations of the Church in this department may be obtained, your Committee suggest that all the Presbyteries be particular in enjoining their Stated Clerks, or Executive Committee on Sabbath Schools, to provide each church session with the proper form for sessional reports, and hold the sessions that fail to return them, properly filled, strictly, nay, sternly to account; and that the Presbyteries themselves use only the form prescribed for Presbyterian reports. For statistics are valuable only as they approach completeness; and they can be made complete, and be readily digested, only when they are made out in one form.

From the reports handed in, defective though they still are, your Committee are happy in being able to present to your venerable body the following very encouraging facts. These facts they present, side by side with the corresponding facts of last year, that the advance made may be more apparent:

Last year, 562 schools were reported; this year, 682; an increase of 120.

Last year, 4,505 teachers; this year, 6,653; increase, 2,153.

Last year, 37,047 scholars; this year, 46,972; increase, 9,925.

Last year, $12,741 were contributed by the schools; this year, $26,678; increase, $13,937.

Of the amount contributed, the portion designed for objects outside of the needs of the schools cannot be accurately determined; but about $5,700 appear to have been thus appropriated; mainly to Foreign Missions; and $20,978 to the domestic uses of the schools.

These facts exhibit a very large increase, as we see, of schools, teachers, scholars and contributions. Much of this increase is attributable to the larger number of reports sent up. But not wholly so; for last year, with an equally large increase in the number of reports above those of the previous year, there was a falling off from the contributions of the previous year of upwards of $6,000. But there is one other statement that remains to be made, that touches the heart more nearly. It awakens within your Committee, and we feel assured will awaken also in your hearts, and in the heart of the whole Church, profound thanksgiving and praise. It is, that of the members of the schools, 1,333 are reported as having become connected with the Church, during the year, on profession of faith; 1,158 scholars, and 175 teachers. There seems to have been no special or marked awakening, or excitement in any of the schools; but a gentle, yet constant shedding of Divine grace upon them, gathering one by one the lambs into the fold; and, with them, many of those who had been placed in charge of them. Thanks be unto God for this gracious manifestation of His favor.

No fact in connection with our Sabbath Schools has ever been noted, so encouraging, so heart-cheering as this. If it be a true statement—and your Committee has no right to question the correctness of the reports; although they cannot but surmise that some few of them give the numbers, not merely of those added to the Church from the schools during the year, but the whole number of professing Christians connected with the Schools; but, if this summation be correct, and, indeed, after making full allowance for possible mistakes, it shows an unprecedented effusion of Divine influences, in view of which our "heart is glad and our glory rejoices."

Our Sabbath Schools, then, are an agency for good, thus manifestly stamped with the seal of the Divine approbation. While, therefore, devout thanksgiving should pour forth from our grateful hearts to our fathers' God, who so graciously exhibits himself as the God and Father of our children, we should be inspirited to a redoubling of labors in this hallowed and hallowing work. We know that your venerable body will join with your Committee in the earnest prayer that these influences of grace be so increased and multiplied, that all the children of our Church and Sabbath Schools shall, through their fostering care, be sanctified to God from their earliest youth, and be trained up a generation for the Lord.

We gather from the reports that many of the schools are union schools; but they are mostly under the superintendence of elders. Almost all of our own schools are strictly under the supervision of the sessions; are visited by pastors, and by them are often catechised and addressed. Yet not all. So profoundly are your Committee impressed with the importance of holding the Sabbath School, as a Church agency, absolutely under the control and direction of the Church, that we invoke your authority in an injunction upon all our churches so to regard them, and in practice so to control them.

The Bible and Catechisms of our Church, with the aid of an approved question book, are the chief subjects of study in almost all of our Church schools; our Catechisms not to any great extent in the union schools. The Earnest Worker and Children's Friend are largely, though not universally taken; and the systematic Bible lessons prepared by our Committee much used.

Your Committee observe in the report of the Nashville Presbytery, that that Presbytery extended to the other Presbyteries of the Synod, and to all Superintendents of Sabbath Schools, an invitation to meet in conference on questions relating to the proper and successful administration of Sabbath Schools; the conference to be held two days before the meeting of Synod; and a series of questions to be prepared by a Committee, in advance. Your Committee mention this, that the attention of the Church may be directed to the workings of this conference, with a view to the making of such conferences general, if its results be beneficial.

In closing, your Committee would suggest for your consideration the following resolutions:

1. That on all our Sessions and Presbyteries it be enjoined to prepare, without fail, the complete reports for the next General Assembly, on the blanks provided by the Committee of Publication for that purpose.

2. That the injunction be emphatically reiterated that Presbyteries act efficiently in bringing all our Church Schools directly under the control of the Church Session, so that the superintendent and teachers shall hold their position only by their appointment and consent; that all the operations and interests of the School be under their guidance; and that they see to it that our Catechisms, Confession of Faith, and Form of Government, with the Bible, be the prominent subjects of study.

3. That the children of the Sabbath Schools be encouraged to contribute to all the benevolent schemes of the Church, in the order, and at the times designated by the General Assembly, i. e., on each alternate month; and that pastors and superintendents be careful to explain to them, at the time, the object to which they are invited to contribute; so that they may be trained to an intelligent giving to these great objects of the Church in her aggressive work.

4. That we call upon the Church to unite with us in grateful thanksgiving and praise to the God of all grace for His manifest honor to our Sabbath Schools during the past year; and in earnest entreaty that these influences of grace in the coming year be so increased that all our teachers and scholars alike shall be brought into the fold of Christ. "For these things," saith the Lord, "will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them."

 "Open thy mouth wide and I will fill it."

5. While the Assembly entertain this high estimate of the Sabbath School as an agency for the religious instruction and training of our children and youth, they by no means desire to be misunderstood as regarding it as superseding domestic parental instruction and training. No arrangement, or means of religious teaching, provided by the Church or otherwise, can relieve parents of their personal obligations in this regard.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FERDINAND JACOBS, Chairman.

Upon the recommendation of the several Committees of Review, the records of the following Synods were approved as far as written, viz: South Carolina, Alabama, Texas, Nashville, Kentucky, Memphis, Mississippi, Virginia, Arkansas.

The records of the Synod of Georgia were approved, except that on page 277 the Judicial Committee is represented as reporting a case of complaint against one of the Presbyteries, but, so far as appears from the records, the Synod took no action upon it, and did not receive the report. The ground of this exception is that the records leave the Assembly in doubt whether the complainant may not have been robbed, by this omission, of his constitutional right of complaint.

The Report of the Standing Committee on Evangelistic Labor was presented and adopted, and is as follows:

Reports have been received from thirty-three Presbyteries—eight more than last year.

SYNOD OF ALABAMA.

Presbytery of East Alabama—One evangelist, actively and successfully employed.

South Alabama—A most experienced and successful evangelist. Also, two licentiates employed for several months. Work for two evangelists. Resolutions No. 2 and 3 complied with. See Minutes 1871, page 35.

SYNOD OF ARKANSAS.

Presbytery of Arkansas—No evangelist employed, but a vast amount of evangelistic labor done by the ministry and ruling elders.

Ouachita—No evangelist. Great destitution. All their ministers perform missionary work.

SYNOD OF GEORGIA.

Presbytery of Atlanta—Two evangelists. The labors of these brethren have been greatly blessed. Resolutions complied with, or steps taken thereto.

Augusta—A most active and efficient evangelist. Resolutions not complied with. The plan therein proposed had previously been tried and abandoned; it having failed to accomplish the good hoped for.

Cherokee—No evangelist. Neither the man nor the means. Ministers perform each a month's missionary work.

Macon—Two evangelists. Third resolution substantially complied with.

Florida—No evangelist. Ministers supply their vacant churches.

Savannah—An evangelist part of the time. Successful. Resolutions not complied with—other means employed to accomplish the same end.

SYNOD OF KENTUCKY.

Presbytery of Ebenezer—An evangelist recently engaged. Missionary fields assigned to the ministers.

Central Ohio—Great need of evangelistic work, but not the means to employ an evangelist.

SYNOD OF MEMPHIS.

Presbytery of Chickasaw—Two evangelists.

SYNOD OF MISSISSIPPI.

Presbytery of Central Mississippi—An evangelist employed. The divine blessing attends his labors.

Mississippi—Resolutions not complied with. Impossible at present to do so.

New Orleans—An evangelist part of the year. Pastors perform evangelistic work.

Red River—No evangelist employed. Nearly all the ministers have done evangelistic work.

Tombeckbee—Not the means to support an evangelist. All our ministers required to spend a portion of their time in missionary work.

SYNOD OF NASHVILLE.

Presbytery of Knoxville—Have failed to secure the services of an evangelist. Supplies appointed for vacant churches and destitute places.

SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Presbytery of Mecklenburg—No evangelist the past year. One elected at this (spring) meeting. Feel the importance of having ten able and efficient evangelists in order to overtake our great work.

Concord—No evangelist at present. The churches have failed to support one, without painful embarrassment. Are endeavoring to discharge the duties of an evangelist by means of a general missionary. Resolutions 2 and 3 complied with.

Orange—One evangelist. An encouraging degree of success.

Wilmington—Two evangelists. Their labors greatly blessed.

SYNOD OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

Presbytery of Harmony—One evangelist the past year. His ministry has been greatly blessed. Another evangelist is wanted.

Charleston—Two evangelists the past year. Three employed for the present year, and hopes to secure a fourth

SYNOD OF TEXAS.

Presbytery of Brazos—An evangelist appointed half of his time for six months. Resolutions 2 and 3 complied with.

Central Texas—Not possible to secure the services of an evangelist the past year, though greatly needed and ardently desired. Two or three members are employed part of their time in missionary work. Resolutions 2 and 3 complied with.

Eastern Texas—No evangelist at present. Two needed. Pastors and stated supplies doing evangelistic work.

SYNOD OF VIRGINIA.

Presbytery of Abingdon—No evangelist employed; because we have never been able to raise the money adequate to his support. We endeavor to supply this lack by sending out our pastors and stated supplies. Hope to secure an evangelist during the coming summer.

Lexington—No evangelist employed. Are in hopes of speedily procuring the regular preaching of the gospel in all our now vacant churches. Inexpedient, at this time, to obey the injunctions of the Assembly contained in resolutions 2 and 3.

Montgomery—Have succeeded in securing the services of an evangelist. Ministers supply their vacant churches; more of this sort of work done than ever before.

West Hanover—An evangelist in the field. Resolutions 2 and 3 substantially complied with.

Winchester—Not the policy of this Presbytery to employ an evangelist; but it aims to supply its vacancies and destitutions by means of its own ministers. Presbytery is divided into four equal districts, and ministers assigned to each. This scheme is attended with a very gratifying measure of success.

Roanoke—One evangelist employed.

An examination of the foregoing reports will show that eleven of our fifty-five Presbyteries have reported to the Assembly, as required by the third resolution on this subject, page 38.

It is becoming more and more evident that our vacant churches and destitute places cannot be supplied by the usual labours of our ministry. The sooner, therefore, we put ourselves, as a Church, in full harmony with the word of God, availing ourselves of all the gifts of our ascended Lord and Master, the better. "Evangelists" are among those gifts. The Apostles were all evangelists; and the "Acts of the Apostles" is but the record of their evangelistic toils and labors, their sacrifices and sufferings. Hence the speedy and wondrous spread of the good news—the glad tidings. So let it be now. Let this arm of mighty power be brought to bear in all our borders. Let our strongest and most efficient ministers be sent forth by their Presbyteries to the "work of an evangelist." "And He called unto Him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits." And is not this left on record for the guidance of His Church in all time? Who can doubt it?

In connection with these evangelistic labors, the Assembly respectfully submits to the Presbyteries the solemn enquiry: Has not the time come to make renewed and earnest efforts in behalf of our colored population? Is not this field, once so successfully cultivated by us, again ripening for the harvest? Let these questions receive our prayerful consideration. To the poor the gospel is preached. If suitable labourers in this field can be obtained, the Assembly has reason to believe and hope that means will be furnished for their support.

In answer to an overture from the Presbytery of Western Texas, the Committee report that all the matters and interests therein contained have already been noticed in the deliverances of the present and preceding Assemblies.

The Committee submits the following resolutions for adoption by the Assembly:

1. That, in view of the great blessing which has attended evangelistic labors, the Presbyteries be urged to yet more general and efficient use of the Scriptural office of evangelist; wherever practicable calling to this work their most influential ministers; and that they report to the next Assembly their diligence therein.

2. That the Presbyteries, hitherto failing to report on this subject, be again reminded of their duty.

By order of Committee.

R. NALL, Chairman.

The Standing Committee on Theological Seminaries presented a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on Theological Seminaries would report that they have examined all the papers from the Seminaries, Columbia and Union, consisting of the Report of the Faculty of Columbia, showing that the exercises of that institution have continued without interruption during the year, and the students have been diligently engaged in their studies.

Also, the Report of the Board of Directors to the Assembly, showing that they have graduated thirteen young men for the ministry; referring with becoming respect to the death of the venerable A. W. Leland, D. D., Emeritus Professor, and the impaired health of Professor Dr. James Woodrow, and requesting the Assembly to grant him leave of absence for one year to recruit his health; also, the synopsis of the Treasurer's Report.

They have likewise examined the Report of the Trustees and Directors of the Union Theological Seminary, showing commendable fidelity on the part of the Faculty, and diligence on the part of the students; that they have graduated, or taken through the regular course, twenty young men; made valuable additions to their library; received a donation of thirty thousand dollars to their permanent funds; and that their finances are in a healthy and prosperous condition. They would offer the following resolutions, viz:

1. That these papers be published in the Appendix to the Minutes of the General Assembly.

2. That this Assembly, and the whole Church, should render special and devout thanksgiving to Almighty God for the manifest tokens of His care and mercy towards our Seminaries during the past year.

3. That this Assembly commend to the prayers, sympathies and benefactions of all our churches these schools of the Prophets, and especially call their attention to the urgent necessity of increasing the endowment of the Columbia Theological Seminary.

4. That the request of the Board of Directors, asking leave of absence for one year for Rev. Dr. Woodrow, be and the same is hereby granted, praying that God may speedily restore him to his wonted health and labours.

The Committee would farther recommend the appointment of the following names as Directors of the Seminary at Columbia, viz:

Ministers: J. Leighton Wilson, D. D., D. McQueen, D. D., J. O. Lindsay, John Douglas, E. M. Green. Ruling Elders: J. J. Gresham, Samuel Barnett, J. Hemphill, J. W. Bones, A. Brevard Davidson. H. Muller, Treasurer.

J. T. HENDRICK, Chairman.

Rev. Dr. Adger offered the following resolution, which was adopted, and is as follows:

Resolved, That the Secretaries of the Executive Committees be requested to present a few of their Annual Reports hereafter, in a printed form, for the special use of the Standing Committees to which they are referred.

Upon the motion of the Rev. Dr. Bunting, it was Resolved, That the General Assembly expresses its approval of the diligence of the Committee on Revision, as indicated in the report presented concerning the Book of Discipline, and as it embraces important facts which should be preserved, it is hereby ordered that it be printed in the Appendix of the printed Minutes.

The Report of the Committee on the subject of promoting the reading of the Bible was taken up, and after some discussion the report was indefinitely postponed.

The Committee on Theological Seminaries, to which was referred the overture from Augusta Presbytery on Theological Education, and also a communication from the Chairman (Rev. Dr. Kirkpatrick) of the Committee ad interim appointed by the Assembly of 1870 to consider a memorial signed by Rev. R. L. Dubney, D. D., touching the government of Theological Seminaries, and the more effective conduct of education pursued in them, made a report; which was laid on the table, and the Committee ad interim was discharged.

The Committee on Leave of Absence reported that they had given leave of absence to ruling elders W. D. Harrington, A. C. McIntosh, W. N. Clark, N. M. Roan, G. M. Edgar, and A. C. Ewell. The report was approved.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Assembly be given to the citizens of Richmond, and our brethren in Christ, for the generous hospitality and Christian kindness shown to the members of this body during our sessions here. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me," says our divine Redeemer. May His choicest blessing descend and rest upon them all.

Also,

Resolved, That the thanks of the Assembly are tendered to all railroads and other lines of travel which have extended facilities to the members of this Assembly.

The minutes of to-day were read and approved.

It was then ordered that this General Assembly be dissolved; and that another General Assembly, chosen in like manner, be required to meet in the Presbyterian Church of Little Rock, Arkansas, on the third Thursday in May, 1873, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Closed with singing, prayer, and the benediction by the Moderator.

WILLIAM BROWN, PERMANENT CLERK.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, STATED CLERK.

APPENDIX.

NARRATIVE OF THE STATE OF RELIGION.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES TO THE CHURCHES UNDER THEIR CARE.

BRETHREN: In the reports sent up by a portion of the Presbyteries to this General Assembly, the following delinquencies and discouragements are noted:

1. Deficiency of zeal on the part of ruling elders. These officers of the Church, in many congregations, refuse to bear a reasonable proportion of the burden in the work of spiritual oversight of the flock.

2. Want of liberality in support of the ministry, and in contributions to the various objects of Christian benevolence.

3. Fearful destitutions, and lack of labourers to supply them.

4. Neglect of family prayer, and this even on the part of office-bearers in the Church.

5. Absence from the weekly prayer meeting, attendance on popular amusements, and alarming conformity to the world, as displayed in the conduct of those who profess the religion of Christ. And it is a noticeable fact, that in the bounds of those Presbyteries which report the neglect of family devotion—remissness in attendance at the prayer meeting, and a want of zeal and liberality in pushing forward the Scriptural enterprises enjoined by the General Assembly—but few instances of revival have descended upon the churches.

On the other hand, Narratives from other Presbyteries report much to encourage:

1. An enlarged system of evangelization. By this means wide sections of country are being reached, that, in former days, have been entirely destitute of the ministry of the word.

2. During the ecclesiastical year quite a number of churches have been organized, while there is a growing desire in the minds of the people to have pastors settled over them.

3. The interest felt in Sabbath Schools is manifestly on the increase, and the services of competent teachers can be more readily obtained than in years that have gone. It is also a significant fact that the attention of Christian hearts has, of late, been turned more earnestly, not only in the direction of instruction for youth, but these efforts have been so conducted as to excite a relish for religious exercises in the minds of our children. Furthermore, arrangements are perfected, in many congregations, by which the little ones are taught, from the start, to sing the sweet songs of Zion.

4. Bible classes are on the increase, and these in many instances are presided over by men who are distinguished in the learned, secular professions.

5. In certain quarters of our Zion there has been a marked advance in the matter of contributions, while the desire appears to be very general to adopt, as far as practicable, the plan of regular Sabbath day collections.

6. Attention is called to successful efforts to organize Mission Schools in cities, and also renewed attempts to teach the colored people.

In addition, the Synod of East Alabama has established an Orphan Asylum for the benefit of children of deceased Confederate soldiers. At present one hundred young persons are gathered; and of this number twenty-five have confessed Christ.

7. It is ground for still further encouragement, that during the year an unusual number of churches and parsonages have been erected.

8. The spirit has been poured upon congregations not a few; the believer has been refreshed, while numerous additions have been made to the communion of the Church. And in consequence of these revivals the list of candidates for the gospel ministry has been notably enlarged.

In conclusion, the gratifying intelligence comes up from all the Presbyteries that harmony and brotherly love exist among ministers and in the congregations.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Executive Committee of Foreign Missions, in presenting their Eleventh Annual Report, would tender devout thanks to Almighty God, not only for the kind care He has exercised over the health and lives of our missionary brethren, but for the many tokens of favour He has bestowed upon the work in which they are engaged. Neither death nor severe sickness has been permitted to invade their ranks. They have lived in peace and quietness, and, without any serious interruptions, have carried on their manifold labours of studying the languages of the people among whom they live, preaching the unsearchable riches of Christ, circulating the Scriptures, and training native youths to become teachers and preachers of the gospel. Nor would the Committee express less gratitude for the manifest growth of interest among our people in this great cause, and especially for the liberality with which they have contributed to its support the last year, notwithstanding all the outward discouragements with which they have been surrounded. It is not less true of a considerable portion of our Christian people, than it was of the Macedonian Church, that their liberality has abounded in the midst of their poverty. In view of this encouraging state of things, both at home and abroad, we have surely abundant reason to press forward in the prosecution of this great work, feeling assured that we shall ere long reap a rich and abundant spiritual harvest, if we faint not, nor turn aside from this great work so auspiciously begun.

CHANGES THAT HAVE TAKEN PLACE IN THE MISSIONARY FORCE DURING THE YEAR.

Rev. Ed. Lane, who had been in this country during the summer, endeavouring to raise funds for the Campinas Institute, sailed with Mrs. Lane for his field of labour on the 23d of September, and reached Rio Janeiro the latter part of October, on his way to Campinas. Miss Evelyn Withrow, a native of Waynesboro', Va., left New York for China, by way of San Francisco, on the 19th September. She was accompanied by her friend and former pastor, Rev. W. T. Richardson, as far as San Francisco, from whence she sailed on the 30th September, and reached Yokohama on the 25th October. Since then she has been united in marriage to Rev. M. H. Houston, of the Hanchow Mission. Mr. Adam H. Erwin, of Charlotte, N. C., sailed from New York on the 21st December, to join the mission at Baranquilla, which place he reached in the early part of January, and immediately entered upon his work as teacher. Mrs. Morton, who had been in this country for some months for the improvement of her health, sailed for Brazil on the 23d January. She was accompanied by Miss Nannie Henderson, of Charlestown, West Virginia, who went out to commence a female school in Campinas. They reached Rio Janeiro the 23d February; but were detained there several weeks, in consequence of a heavy land slide that had rendered the railroad between Sao Paulo and Campinas impassable. Rev. Hampden C. DuBose, Mrs. DuBose, and Mrs. A. E. Randolph, left Omaha on Monday, the 22d April, for China. They were detained in this country more than two months by the snow blockade on the Pacific road, but are now probably near the end of their voyage. Mr. DuBose is a native of South Carolina, and a recent graduate of the Theological Seminary at Columbia. Mrs. DuBose is a native of Taladega, Alabama. Mrs. Randolph is a native of Virginia, but for a number of years past a resident of Kentucky. She goes to take charge of the female school at Hanchow. Mr. M. C. Askill, a ruling elder of one of the churches in Fayetteville Presbytery, was appointed some months since as a teacher to Spencer Academy, in the Choctaw nation, and would have been there in the early part of March, but has been prevented from sickness.

THE WHOLE MISSIONARY FORCE.

The whole missionary force, including those on their way, consists of fourteen ordained ministers—of whom four are natives of the country where they live—two male and twelve female missionary assistants, and eight native assistants—thirty-six missionary labourers in all, and all depending upon the contributions of the churches for their support.

FINANCES.

The receipts from all sources, including $6,497.67 contributed by the ladies of the Church for the relief of Mr. Inslee's family, $1,807.50 special contribution to the Brazil mission, and $3,442.88 from the Sabbath Schools, amount in the aggregate to $47,181.82. Deducting from this what was given for Mr. Inslee's family, and what is regarded as a special contribution to the Brazil Mission, the actual amount available for general missionary purposes would be $38,876.65, out of which the debt of last year, of $5,505.99, has been reduced more than one half. The aggregate above mentioned, of more than forty-seven thousand dollars, is nevertheless the true expression of the gifts of God's people. It shows an advance of something more than seventy per cent. upon the contributions of the previous year, and is a larger amount than was ever given by the same churches, even in the days of their greatest prosperity. Nor is this advance less remarkable when we take into consideration the fact that money in many parts of the country has been very scarce, and a large portion of our people have been severely burdened by heavy taxation. It is an encouraging fact, and perhaps speaks well for the future of our beloved Church, that God is causing the liberality of His people to abound in the midst of their poverty. The process of trial through which they are passing may be severe and searching, but the fruit will be rich and abundant.

Gratifying, however, as the above results are, the funds actually available for general missionary purposes have not been sufficient to meet the exigencies of the case. During the summer and autumn, several missionary brethren, who were ready to sail for their fields of labour, were detained several months from the want of means to send them out. Several important departments of missionary work have been delayed, or held in suspense, because it has not been possible to furnish the means for carrying them forward.

The contributions of the Sabbath Schools have fallen behind those of the previous year to an amount of something less than one hundred dollars. This, however, may have resulted from the fact that some of their contributions found their way into the fund for Mrs. Inslee, so that there may have been an increase, instead of decrease, in the actual contributions. It is a matter of the greatest importance that all our Sabbath Schools should be engaged in this work. It will not only be a salutary and healthful moral training for the children themselves, but their combined gifts will greatly augment the general missionary fund. It has been a favourite idea with the Committee for years past to sustain all the educational operations of the missionary work by Sab bath School contributions; and this can easily be done, even on an enlarged scale, if ministers will take the proper pains to get the children under their care interested in the matter.

The observance of the monthly concert of prayer for the conversion of the world is becoming more common, which cannot but be regarded as a token for good. It is impossible for our people to feel the interest in this enterprise that they ought, unless they are instructed in relation to its nature and progress. The monthly concert, when properly conducted, not only brings out all the interesting facts connected with its progress, but, at the same time, stimulates the prayers and intercessions of God's people, and thus imparts life and power to the undertaking. Nearly akin to this, and scarcely of less value, is the circulation of the Missionary among our people. Whilst the price at which it is furnished is almost nominal, it nevertheless furnishes abundant information, in relation, not only to our own work, but a great deal in relation to the missionary work at large.

PROVISION FOR MR. INSLEE'S FAMILY.

It will be remembered that the Committee were instructed by the last Assembly to make the effort, mainly through the agency of the women of the Church, to raise $5,000 for the benefit of Mr. Inslee's family. A call was issued accordingly, and most nobly have they responded to it, the actual amount raised being something more,—$6,500 instead of $5,000. Could a more refreshing illustration be asked of the true life and spirit which dwell in the heart of our beloved Church? What might not the women of the Church do in the great work of evangelizing the heathen nations of the earth, if their attention was aroused, and their sympathies properly awakened in its behalf? The local Committee appointed by the Assembly to receive and invest the funds raised for Mrs. Inslee and family, will make their report, and furnish all additional information that will be desired in relation to the matter.

SURVEY OF THE MISSIONARY WORK.

In taking a general survey of the missionary work under the care of the Church, it should be borne in mind that, so far as the great and remote fields of missionary labour are concerned, we are yet but in the incipient and preliminary stages of the work. Our pioneer missionaries felt a laudable ambition not to build on other men's foundations. They preferred to enter into new and untried fields, and lay the foundations of their own work. Much preparatory labour, therefore, had to be done. New languages had to be acquired; the character and habits of the people, as well as their superstitious creeds and forms of false religion, had to be studied; religious truth had to be carefully instilled into the minds of the people, and various other kinds of preparatory work had to be done, before there could be any reasonable expectation of great results in the way of the ingathering of souls into the fold of Christ. Notwithstanding all these hindering causes, however, there is not one of our missions, as will be seen in the progress of the report, that is not enjoying unequivocal tokens of the divine favour; and some of them have been favoured far beyond what could reasonably have been expected when they were first established.

The readers of the Missionary have been kept so fully informed in relation to the condition and progress of the different missions, that we propose now only to give a very brief sketch of them.

INDIAN MISSIONS.

Our labours extended to the Choctaws and Chickasaws, who are substantially the same people, and to the Cherokees and to the Creeks. Among the Choctaws there are three ordained missionaries, one of whom is a native, and one native licentiate, besides a number of assistant missionaries. Among the Creeks there is one ordained minister, who is a native of the country; and among the Cherokees there are two ordained ministers, one of whom is a native Cherokee. In all these fields, but especially among the Choctaws, the missionary force is entirely inadequate to the wants of the Cherokees that were established there in former years; and the Committee, although they have used all possible diligence, have not been able to find men in sufficient numbers to meet the wants of those churches, and many of them, therefore, are in a languishing condition. This dearth of missionary labourers is to be ascribed to several causes. In part, to the scarcity of ministers among ourselves, the churches in the Choctaw country being very much in the same condition of our own; in part, to the fact that too little attention was given to training natives for the ministry in the early periods of the missionary work; and partly to the fact that these churches have never been trained, as they should have been, to independent self-support. Notwithstanding these difficulties and discouragements, however, the gospel has been making steady progress wherever it has been preached, and there is abundant cause for gratitude to Almighty God for the many mercies he is bestowing upon that people. No statistical information has reached the office as yet as to the number of communicants now embraced in these churches. The number reported last year was 904, of whom something more than 200 were received during the year.

Spencer Academy.

Mention was made in the last Annual Report of the intention of the Committee to resume Spencer Academy, and of the conditions upon which it was to be conducted. Rev. J. H. Colton was appointed to superintend it, and removed to that place last spring for this purpose. He has not been able as yet to get suitable and permanent assistants, and thus far has been compelled to rely upon temporary help. Mr. M. C. Askill, of North Carolina, as mentioned above, was appointed teacher to that school last winter, and would have been on the ground before this, if he had not been prevented by severe sickness. It is expected that another teacher will be secured in the course of a few months, and the institution be put upon a more solid foundation during the summer. The present number of pupils is thirty-two.

ITALIAN MISSION.

Miss Ronzone, after spending her summer vacation with her friends in this country, returned to her work in Italy in the autumn. In consequence of the removal of the school with which she had been connected from Bordigliera to St. Remo, she preferred to open a day school at Milan, her native place, where she thought she could be more useful than at St. Remo. The school had just been opened at the date of our latest intelligence.

MISSIONS IN THE UNITED STATES OF COLOMBIA.

Mr. Pratt and family have enjoyed good health during the year. He has carried on his varied labours of preaching, visiting from house to house, circulating religious books and tracts, and occasionally making missionary tours into the surrounding country. The Roman priesthood have been stirred up to more violent opposition than they have ever manifested before, thus giving pretty sure proof that the instructions that have been given are not without influence upon the hearts of the people. The mission was reinforced in January by the arrival of Mr. Erwin, who immediately entered upon his work as teacher. His school, at our latest date from the mission, numbered fourteen pupils, most of whom, however, were children of the foreign residents. The native population, from fear of the Romish priesthood, from ignorance or indifference, or from some other cause, have not shown as much interest in the education of their children as could be desired, but no doubt they will soon have a higher appreciation of its value, and, perhaps, be as eager to enjoy its advantages as they are now indifferent.

BRAZIL MISSION.

For a part of the year Mr. Morton was sole occupant of the mission, but the arrival there of Mr. and Mrs. Lane in October, and the return of Mrs. Morton, with Miss Henderson, in February, have given to the mission a brighter and more encouraging aspect. The disposition which the people of Campinas, as well as those of the surrounding country, have manifested to listen to the instructions of the gospel, as well as the willingness they have showed to place their children under Protestant instruction, cannot fail to have struck the attention, and excited the interest of all who love the cause of missions. Three young men of more than usual promise have been added to the communion of the Church within a few months, making the whole number of adult communicants seventeen.

But the great and urgent want of this mission at the present moment is means to establish a high school, where the rising generation may be gathered in large numbers and be fitted for the duties of life, but especially where they may be trained to be teachers and preachers of the gospel. The most intelligent portion of the community have manifested a very strong desire to have such an institution established, and it would no doubt be thronged with pupils as soon as opened. A very eligible lot, sufficient both for missionary residences and the educational institution, has been purchased and paid for. Six thousand dollars are needed to put up the necessary buildings. The Executive Committee have not felt able to appropriate more than $1,000 from the general fund for this purpose, and it is now proposed to raise $5,000 by contributions from individuals who can afford to give to this without lessening their ordinary gifts to the general cause. Cannot one hundred persons be found who can give $50 each to make up this sum? A number have already entered their names. Who will follow?

CHINESE MISSION.

Nothing of a very marked character has attended the missionary work in China during the past year. The arrival of Mrs. Houston there last autumn greatly cheered the home and hearts of our brethren, and it is hoped they will be still further comforted and cheered by the arrival of the missionary party now on the way. The brethren on the ground have enjoyed good health during the year, have prosecuted their work in peace and quietness, and have not been without comforting tokens of the divine presence in the various departments of their labour. The schools, in consequence of the accessions to the missionary force, will be placed upon a broader and more solid foundation. It is probable also that the station at Guchow will be exchanged for one nearer to Hanchow. By this arrangement our brethren will be brought nearer to each other, and will work more effectively than they could when separated by so great a distance as intervenes between Guchow and Hanchow. Hanchow itself is a strong position, and may be made the centre of one of the strongest missions in the world. All that is necessary to make it such, with the blessing of God, is an adequate missionary force.

GENERAL CONDITION OF THE WORK.

We have now as a Church of the Lord Jesus Christ reached that point in the great prosecution of the work of evangelizing the nations of the earth, when it becomes us solemnly to review our situation, to consider the responsibilities that have been assumed, and to inquire what is further demanded of us in the present crisis by the providence of God. It has recently been remarked by one of the leading ministers of the Church, "that we have knocked at no door in the great unevangelized world that has not flown wide open, and revealed to us fields of labour of almost indefinite extent." This is pre-eminently the case in China and South America, to say nothing of those other great divisions of the unevangelized world which we have not yet even essayed to enter. The foundation for a great missionary work has been laid in at least three important centres in this great kingdom of moral darkness. The languages of the people have been studied and mastered; the glad tidings of salvation have been proclaimed around these centres; churches have been organized and humble penitents have been gathered into those churches; schools have been established and many youths have been gathered into those schools, most of whom, it is hoped, will become teachers and preachers of the Gospel. But our missionary brethren who have been the honored instruments in laying the foundation of this work find they have reached the limit of their power to sustain and carry it on. They are now calling earnestly upon the Church to be sustained.

Nor have they called in vain. The hearts of our young men, and our young women too, have been stirred by these calls coming from the distant ends of the earth. Besides the eight missionary laborers mentioned in a previous part of this report as having already gone forth to these different fields, eight or ten more will be ready to go in the summer or early autumn, if the means can be found to send them. Among the latter class are four young men of more than ordinary promise, who have just completed their theological studies and have placed themselves under the direction of the Executive Committee. Shall they be sent? Shall this solemn call from the Spirit and providence of God be heeded? What response shall be made to these young brethren, whom we have every reason to believe have been summoned to this work by the Holy Ghost, and who are responding to this call from above, by saying, "here are we, send us" to carry the light of salvation to these benighted nations. This is a matter in relation to which the Committee desire to hear the voice of the Assembly, and to them this solemn inquiry is directed.

After a careful consideration of the whole matter, the Committee have come to the conclusion that in order to carry on the work already undertaken and send out the proposed reinforcements, the full sum of $60,000 will be needed. Will the churches furnish this amount? The Committee think there will be no doubt of the matter, if only ministers and church sessions can be relied upon to bring the subject fully before the people.

All of which is respectfully submitted on behalf of the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions.

Secretary of Foreign Missions.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF SUSTENTATION.

In presenting this Sixth Annual Report, the Executive Committee of Sustentation would return humble thanks to Almighty God for the many tokens of favour bestowed upon this important cause, and would at the same time congratulate the General Assembly, and the Church at large, upon the varied and happy results that have been effected through its instrumentality. The scheme was not inaugurated without fear and misgivings on the part of many of the best and wisest men of the Church. Some opposed it on principle; some doubted its feasibility; some feared that it would become a great centralized power in the Church; whilst others greatly preferred to carry on the work of Sustentation and missions by independent Presbyterian action. Five years' experience of the practical working of the scheme, however, has shown that these fears and misgivings were unfounded. With the constitution which has been adopted, and with the existing state of feeling in the Church, it is evident that centralization of power is next to an impossibility. At the same time it is now conceded on all hands that the most important results have been effected through the harmonious co-operation of the whole Church.

With a single exception, all the Presbyteries of the original Church are now heartily united in the scheme, and, as it is generally believed, not only with great benefit to their individual interests, but with equal benefit to the interests of the Church at large. The advantages arising from this general co-operation are alike important and manifold. The true unity of the Church is better understood and is more highly appreciated; many of our feeble and impoverished churches have been kept in organic existence through the provisions it has made for their support; the great principles of Christian benevolence have been more fully developed; the necessity and importance of concert of action on the part of the whole Church is more clearly understood; congregational independency is gradually disappearing from our borders; and true Presbyterianism, there is reason to believe, is reasserting its authority over all our churches. Steady adherence to the great and fundamental principles involved in this scheme cannot, with the blessing of God, fail to secure our beloved Church ere long an honorable position in the very front ranks of the most favored portions of the evangelical Church.

The Assembly will bear in mind that the work originally assigned to the Sustentation Committee has been greatly enlarged. At first only three departments of benevolence were contemplated, viz: aids for feeble churches, assistance in carrying on the missionary work, and help in the erection or repairs of church edifices. The wants of these three objects have heretofore been met by the funds arising from a single annual collection, taken up in the churches, and has never been sufficient at any one time to meet fully the exigencies of these three-fold objects. The Invalid fund, intended for the benefit of infirm and superannuated ministers, and the families of ministers deceased, was inaugurated in the spring of 1868. For this a separate annual collection was ordered, the funds arising from which has always been held and administered as a separate and independent fund. The last Assembly directed that a collection be taken up in all the churches on the first Sabbath in April for the evangelistic or missionary work. This, in the judgment of the Committee, is a most important measure, and if the time designated for the collection had been the first Sabbath in September, instead of the first Sabbath in April, it would have rendered our general scheme of systematic benevolence very simple and almost perfect by having one general collection on the first Sabbath of every alternate month in the year. If the Assembly reaffirms this recommendation, as it is earnestly hoped will be done, then the Committee on Sustentation will have under its care as many as five separate departments of benevolence, and four separate funds to control and disburse, i. e. to sustain feeble churches, in which is included church erection, to carry on the missionary or evangelistic work, to relieve invalid ministers and the families of ministers deceased, and to administer the Relief Fund according to its wants and circumstances. The Northern Presbyterian Church has five separate committees and as many sets of executive officers to do the same work. The Committee of Sustentation are of the opinion that all these departments, in the present state of our Church at least, may not only be administered by a single committee, with its proper complement of executive officers, but may be done more advantageously than it could be by five separate, independent committees.

In carrying on the general work of Sustentation, the utmost harmony has always prevailed between the General and the Presbyterial Committees. If in some cases the latter have not received all the funds they have asked for, and all that seemed to be needed by the exigencies of the churches, it was because the Central Committee had not the money, or in certain cases were restrained by rules given them by the Assembly for their guidance. As the general scheme, as well as the rules given to the Committee for its government, are better understood, it grows in favour both with the Presbyterial Committees and with the Church at large, and it is confidently believed that nothing is needed to bring it into universal favour but to be thoroughly understood. If in certain portions of the Church there are still lingering preferences for carrying on the work by separate, independent Presbyterial action, it is because the general scheme has not been fully understood or explained to the people. Heretofore the Central Committee has been able to say to every Presbytery within our bounds, that it would grant to it, when asked to do so, full as much as its churches contribute, and to the weaker Presbyteries a good deal more if it should be necessary. So that no Presbytery can complain of injustice, whilst all weaker ones are under constant obligations to their stronger and more liberal sister Presbyteries. The Committee have always felt authorized to make the proposition just referred to, partly because they felt assured from past experience that the churches of the stronger Presbyteries will always contribute more than would be asked from the common funds, and partly because Presbyteries and Presbyterian Committees are themselves beginning to see that the welfare of the churches under their care does not depend so much upon the largeness of the amount that may be drawn from the common funds, as in the proper development of the resources of the churches themselves. In the earlier stages of the work, the whole scheme was seriously endangered by the inconsiderate and grasping demands of certain Presbyteries. But a different and better state of feeling prevails now. Presbyteries and Presbyterian Committees are beginning to feel a laudable ambition to have their churches contribute more than will be asked from the general fund, and in carrying out this general principle the highest interest of their own churches is effectually secured. It is doubtful whether any churches were organized in Apostolic times, except such as could reasonably be expected to co-operate in spreading the knowledge of the gospel among mankind. And ought this not to be the policy of our own Church? What can retard its growth, or cripple its efficiency in the service of the Redeemer more, than to be unduly burdened with the care of a large number of feeble, inefficient eleemosynary churches.

Hitherto the preference has been given by order of the Assembly to the claims of feeble churches over those of the missionary or evangelistic work. But the question may now be entertained whether this order should not be reversed or modified. If churches, or unions of churches, that have been aided in the support of the gospel for five or six consecutive years, cannot after that assume the attitude of self-support, ought they not to be remanded back to the status of missionary churches, to enjoy such spiritual provision as their Presbyteries may be able to provide for all others of the same class? There must be some correspondence, except in extraordinary cases, between what a people can contribute towards the support of their pastor and the amount of his time and labour they are to expect. If, however, the Assembly reiterates its injunction for an annual collection for the evangelistic work, there can be no more rivalry or conflict between the two departments, each having a fund of its own. It will be necessary only for the Presbyteries to draw the lines of distinction more clearly between the two, and regulate their applications accordingly.

Ever since the inauguration of the general scheme, the Committee have regarded that portion of our common country lying to the west of the Mississippi as the proper and peculiar field of Domestic Missions for the whole Church. It has been their constant aim to strengthen our churches there, and promote the cause of evangelization in all those regions. To this end they have aided a large number of brethren in getting to that field; as a general thing they have usually appropriated all that has been asked in support of the gospel there; and in Texas particularly they have usually appropriated three or four times as much for the support of the churches there as those churches have contributed to the common funds. They would have been glad to do ten times as much, but they have neither the men nor the means. The fact is, there has been a struggle for self-preservation throughout the whole Church. The destitutions in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and other portions of the Southern country have been nearly as great as those in Texas. The increased number of pupils in our Theological Seminaries holds out encouragement both for the East and the West; and the crisis has now come when more must be done for those western regions, if we would not lose our influence there altogether. The providence of God calls loudly upon us, not only to strengthen every post that is now occupied, but to extend our operations so as to meet the growing wants of that important country.

FINANCE.

The receipts from all sources for the year ending April 1st, 1872, including $6,503 42 contributed to the invalid fund, amount to $28 961 37. Separating the two funds, the results show that there has been an increase to the Sustentation fund of $718 34, and a decrease in those to the invalid fund of $150 73. In drawing this comparison deduction is made from the last year's account for certain funds that were returned to the Treasury. This increase in the general contributions of the Church, though small, is nevertheless encouraging, when we couple with it the fact that the great body of the churches are steadily advancing in the direct support which they are giving to their ministers—one of the main objects contemplated by the Sustentation scheme. In the last annual report it was stated, upon a calculation based upon the reports of twenty-five or more Presbyteries, that the average salary of ministers throughout the whole Church had increased in the course of three years from $500 to $650, or about an average increase of $60 per annum. An estimate based upon similar data shows that the average salary is now a little above $700 i. e., maintaining the steady increase of $50 per annum. If the aggregate amount arising from this general increase in the salary of ministers could be accurately ascertained, it would probably show that the aggregate contributions to Sustentation would exceed $50 000. This advance in ministerial support can hardly be ascribed to any improvement in the general condition of the southern country, for in many parts of it at least the money market has been unusually stringent and taxation oppressively burdensome; but, as may be reasonably inferred, to a growing sense of obligation on the part of the great body of our people to sustain the institutions of religion, even at the cost of personal sacrifices. This improvement of feeling may be ascribed to a combination of causes, among which may be mentioned the constant and faithful discussion of the subject by our religious newspapers; measures instituted by Presbyteries to raise the standard of liberality among their churches; the plan of visitation enjoined by the last General Assembly, but mainly perhaps to the influence exerted by Sustentation and its kindred institutions of benevolence upon the churches, through the medium of the Presbyterial Committees. The Committee attach very great importance to the matter of visiting the churches. They confidently believe that if this measure is faithfully and judiciously carried out, in accordance with the recommendation of the last Assembly, it can scarcely fail to bring about very important and happy results.

The Committee have constantly kept in view the injunction of the Assembly to make the effort to raise the salary of every laboring minister to the sum of $800 as the minimum. They can report progress in the right direction, but not complete success, owing to the fact that the Presbyteries have not yet enforced all the preliminary measures necessary to carry it into complete effect. There are still a great many churches that are confessedly not doing all that could reasonably be expected of them in the support of their pastors, and it would not only be contrary to existing rules, but would be manifestly aiding to help churches that are able to take care of themselves. Again, there are ministers who are largely absorbed in secular engagements whose salary it would be improper to supplement until they give themselves up wholly to the work of the ministry. These and other irregularities of a similar nature can be rectified only by the action of Presbyteries, and until this is done it will not be possible to carry out the injunction of the Assembly to the full extent of its meaning.

Of twenty-five Presbyteries that have furnished full information on the subject of ministerial support, three report the average salary of their ministers (apart from what is appropriated from the Sustentation fund) as between $400 and $500; two between $500 and $600; five between $600 and $700; seven between $700 and $800; two between $800 and $900; one where the average salary is $943; one where it is $1,000; two where the average salary is above $1,500. Three report all their ministers as receiving $800 or upwards. Of the above Presbyteries three report an increase in the average salaries of their ministers from $100 to $200 in the course of four years, whilst six report an increase of $200 and upwards in the same time. The average salary throughout the whole Church, according to the data above mentioned, is $716, without taking into account the larger salaries given in cities.

Encouraging as many of the foregoing facts are, the contributions to the general cause of Sustentation have not been sufficient to meet its urgent and varied wants. As has been the case for several years past, the Committee have been able to do very little in the way of aiding in church erection. At their meeting on the 1st of April they appropriated the round sum of $1,000 for this purpose, to be paid out in sums of $100 to such congregations as could with such aid get their buildings in a condition to be used for public worship. But this amount is already absorbed, whilst there are other applications that cannot be met.

For a full statement of the contributions and appropriations, the Assembly is referred to a printed statement furnished by the Treasurer, which goes along with this report, and is intended as a supplement.

INVALID FUND.

This fund, as has already been mentioned, amounted to $6,503 42, less by $150.75 than it was last year, whilst the number of applicants for aid from it have been eight more than they were the previous year, being eighty-eight in all. The appropriations have varied from $25 to $200, and in one or two extraordinary cases they have exceeded a little over $200. Of the eighty-eight families or individuals who have been the recipients of this fund, twenty are included in the Synod of Virginia; twenty-one in the Synod of North Carolina; nine in the Synod of Georgia; five in the Synod of Nashville; two in the Synod of Memphis; three in the Synod of Alabama; four in the Synod of Mississippi; three in the Synod of Arkansas; and three in the Synod of Texas. A statement furnished by the Treasurer gives the names of all these individuals, as well as the amounts appropriated to them, and goes into the hands of the Assembly as a part of the general report.

RELIEF FUND.

The Committee are gratified to be able to report that the number of churches and individual ministers necessary, according to the direction of the last Assembly, to put the relief scheme into full operation, has been secured, and information of the fact has been published, so that all such churches and individuals might send on their first annual installment. The plan will be considered as commencing with January, 1872. There has been some hesitation on the part of the churches to enter into the plan, but this has been owing, it is confidently believed, to the fact that the scheme has not generally been understood by the churches. When it has once been put into operation, and its practical benefits have been seen, it will no doubt become a popular and favorite scheme both with ministers and churches. The Committee would be glad of any additional instructions that the Assembly may think proper to give in addition to the management of the scheme, and they would at the same time suggest the propriety of the Assembly's appointing two investigating Committees, to consist each of two laymen, with the Secretary of Sustentation as ex-officio member, the one to be located in Baltimore and the other in Augusta, Ga. This would not be regarded as interfering with the property being held in the name of the Trustees of the Assembly as was directed by the last Assembly.

All of which is respectfully submitted on behalf of the Executive Committee of Sustentation.

J. LEIGHTON WILSON,
Secretary of Sustentation.

Treasurer of Sustentation.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF EDUCATION.

The Executive Committee of Education respectfully presents to the General Assembly its Eleventh Annual Report; and as it has had the pleasure of doing to every General Assembly since the war, so now again it has the grateful privilege of reporting advancement. The whole amount of receipts from the churches during the year is $19,661, which is an advance of $789 over the receipts reported last year. The amount paid for incidental expenses, $259. Paid to 130 students, $19,715.97. There is a balance due the Treasurer of $99 32. The increase of number aided is nine.

There is no deduction from the receipts on account of officers' salaries. The reason of that is, that owing to the heavy debt which rested on this Committee, one year ago, it was thought that the Church would approve of the assumption of the salaries of the joint officers of the two Committees by the Committee of Publication. This course, indeed, was recommended to the Committees by brethren not connected with them, but who are esteemed for their wisdom in the counsels of the Church. As it was believed the Publication Committee could surmount its difficulties better than this Committee could, it was resolved to charge the officers' salaries against it, and permit all the contributions of the churches to this object to go to the support of the students, without any abatement on account of salaries. For the past year, during which the stringency in the Education treasury was very great, it was a measure, the necessity of which has shown itself by the results. For, otherwise, it would scarcely have been possible for this Committee to have escaped from intense mortification, if not discredit.

At the last Annual Report, there was a deficit of $4,421.98. The Committee had called on the Presbyteries where the chief delinquency existed to come to our aid, and had transferred $1,930 to them, with the urgent entreaty to raise it among their churches. Nearly all of them did so with cheerfulness, and by the contributions obtained from other sources the debt was discharged, though a portion of it was not called for. The whole amount actually required, and which was paid to cancel those obligations, was $3,026 85. Other sums were paid by the Presbyteries, and not reported to us.

The appropriations made to students this year amount in the aggregate to $20,219.22. The incidental expenses were $259.28. Hence, the total sum of our obligation for the year is $23,505.25. It has been the case, every year, that some of those for whom appropriations are asked either do not call for them, or only call for a part of what was appropriated. The deduction from the above amount, which will be made in this manner, will be less than for several years, but its precise amount cannot yet be definitely ascertained.

The amount paid to the students, as stated above, was $19,716. Take this from the sum total of our obligations, and there is left $3,530 to be raised and paid to our students between the making of this report and the close of the college terms, in June. Otherwise, our students will be reduced to great straits, and the Church be discredited.

To meet the pressing wants of our students in the fall, $1,000 was borrowed out of Bank, without expense, as the discount was paid by a member of the Committee.

According to the authority conferred on the Committee by the last Assembly, the annual circular to the churches previous to the annual collection, was printed and mailed to all our churches in sufficient numbers to furnish every communicant with a copy of it. It was stated to the last Assembly that this could be done at a cost somewhat less than $200. The actual cost was, for paper, $90; printing 88,000 copies, $41.40; postage, $55; total cost, $186 40. The result was, that the contributions of the churches came into the treasury more promptly than ever before, and the Committee was able to make its earlier payments to the students with more promptness and less embarrassment than on any previous occasion. Had all the churches come to our aid, the treasury would have had ample means to meet its engagements. About the 1st of March, the receipts into the treasury almost ceased, while the obligations resting on the Committee still fell but little short of $8,000. According to the standing order of the Assembly requiring the Secretary to issue a circular every six months, informing the Church of the state of this interest, that officer sent forth an appeal for additional funds, through the medium of our religious journals. The response to this appeal was not equal to our wants, and still there is a large balance against us. What is to be done to meet these obligations, which are now pressing, is respectfully referred to the General Assembly for its consideration. According to the rule given to the Committee by the Assembly of 1866, the claims of the students in their theological course take precedence; and, hence, the young brethren at our Theological Seminaries have been paid up in full. The balances to be provided for are all due to our college students, who will be reduced to great embarrassment, and will be much discouraged, if the means be not furnished at the end of their college sessions for discharging their obligations.

The Presbytery of Montgomery has requested the Assembly to raise the appropriations made to college students from $175 to $200.

This is a matter over which this Committee has no jurisdiction. It is right to say, however, that the action of the last Assembly, placing a limitation to the amounts which the Committee shall appropriate, has met with much approval, especially from those most nearly connected with our students in the colleges and universities; and but a single dissentient voice has ever been heard previous to the action of Montgomery Presbytery. The question involved is the same old question which confronts us at every step of our work: Shall we undertake to support these young men? or shall we aid them only? And then, if they are only to be aided, to what extent? If the Church had shown its willingness or ability to pay the sum now appropriated under existing orders of the Assembly, there might be some encouragement to increase the amounts; but while there is an annual deficit, which no appeals, however urgent, have enabled us to surmount, the increasing of the appropriations would only have the effect of increasing the deficit; it would create larger expectations, but would not produce the money necessary to satisfy them. We commend the subject to the fresh consideration of the General Assembly, and if, in the judgment of that venerable court, the funds can be raised, it may be well to grant the request; but, otherwise, it would accomplish nothing; for our past experience is that the money cannot be secured to do it. Let it be observed, moreover, that the demands of this cause are annually increasing. The number to whom aid was extended last year was 121. This year it is 130; an increase of 9. This ought to be taken into the account, in making any estimate on this subject. Not only has the Assembly to provide for 130 young brethren, but it must anticipate an increase, which will be, judging by the experience of several past years, not less than eight or ten.

One gratifying fact ought to be mentioned. While the number of students seeking aid has annually increased, the proportion of those seeking the ministry who require aid is gradually diminishing. Especially at both our Seminaries this is the case, though it is more evident at Union Seminary than at Columbia. The difference arises, doubtless, from the different circumstances of the localities from which the students are derived. This year about one half of the students at Columbia required aid, while at Union Seminary about one third required it. This is a less proportion of students requiring assistance than during any previous year.

Some of the students have received a larger sum than is allowed them by the Assembly, owing to circumstances beyond the control of this Committee. When disbursements are made from our treasury to the students for whom aid has been asked, the distribution is pro rata, and the payments are made in the order required by the Assembly, which gives students the furthest advanced, precedence. If the chairman of Presbyterial Committees see proper to forward money to their students at the same time, but without notifying the Committee, of course they are drawing from two sources. After our students at Columbia and Union had been paid up in full, in several instances, and at both, it was ascertained that this was done. This Committee had paid them up in full, under the impression that they were receiving funds from no other sources; but subsequently reports were received from the chairmen of the Presbyterial Committees, informing us of their action, and requesting their churches to be credited and the students charged. So far as the Committee has control of the subject, this information was received at too late a period to admit of effective action; and thus three or four hundred dollars have gone to students in excess of their appropriations, while our college students are left in embarrassment, because the Committee is left without means to pay.

The labours of the Committee are much increased by this manner of doing business, from the difficulty of adjusting the accounts of the Presbyterial Committees, when they undertake to supply their own students with funds. Some of them keep their accounts with great accuracy and simplicity, and keep us fully informed of all their proceedings; of others, exactly the opposite of this is true. Many persons suppose there is a saving of money by their transmitting the money to the students directly. This is a mistake. Usually, the chairmen of the Committees have to purchase more drafts than one in sending money, in order to send money to different institutions, whereas a single draft would have transmitted it all to our treasury. And in sending money to the various institutions in which our students are found, it costs us no more to send a large draft than a small; and, when we are able to do so, it takes no more letters for twenty or forty students than it would for one. Moreover, it simplifies the whole matter, enabling us to equalize the distribution of funds, and preventing damage to our treasury by the occurrence of such mistakes as those alluded to above. It has, however, been the uniform course to allow every Presbytery to act in these matters in the manner which suits it best, and to accommodate ourselves to their wishes as best we can.

The reports from the Presbyteries and churches as to what has been done through other agencies than this Committee are very meagre.

The ladies of the Franklin-street Church, Baltimore, have contributed $500; the collection in that church was $572; and, besides, the pastor reports to us gifts by his people to this cause given privately to the amount of about $1,200 more. The Sabbath School of the First Church, Norfolk, has given $200 for the support of a student at Union Seminary. The First Church, New Orleans, has supported two students, at a cost of $450, and paid $150 besides into our treasury, and has given $150 to the support of Columbia Seminary. The First Church, Nashville, has supported four students at an expense of $1,131. The Presbytery of Arkansas has supported her two candidates, as that Presbytery has done for two or three years past at a cost this year of $572, and, besides, has sent to our treasury the sum of $256 55. The Presbytery of Bethel made a strong effort to raise the full amount necessary to support her own candidates, and would doubtless have succeeded but for the political troubles that fell on that region; nevertheless, nearly $1,000 was raised toward that object. The Presbytery of Memphis has four students under its care. It does not act through the Committee, but supports its own students. During this year the churches of the Presbytery have contributed to its educational fund $1,156.77; and, after paying its own students, there was sent to our treasury $172 30.

In conclusion, the Assembly is respectfully reminded of the day of prayer for Colleges, and our youth generally. Some of the churches of this country have named a different day from that formerly observed, viz: the last Thursday of February. Without any suggestion, the whole matter is commended to the consideration of the Assembly.

All of which is respectfully submitted by order of the Committee.

Secretary of Education.

C. GENNET, Treasurer.

The undersigned, charged with that duty by the Education Committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, having examined the accounts of the Treasurer, find them correct, and the balance due him the sum of $99.32.

THOS. L. PRESTON,)
B. R. WELLFORD, JR.,) Committee.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF PUBLICATION.

The Executive Committee of Publication respectfully submits its Eleventh Annual Report, and its Book of Records, to the reverend General Assembly.

The Treasurer's Report, which is also submitted along with his books and vouchers, will show the state of our finances during the year. The receipts into the treasury from contributions by the Churches and individuals have been $8,411.05; from merchandise, $27,477.34; from subscriptions to Children's Friend, $4,787.77; from subscriptions to Earnest Worker, $3,575.61; balance from last report, $345.65; making a sum total of available funds, $44,597.41. And the Committee found it necessary to borrow some money out of bank at various times, in all amounting to $3,575.61. So that the sum total of the money that passed through the treasury is $48,174.66; though the actual available resources was the sum first mentioned, viz: $44,597.41. In the mean time there has been paid for merchandise, $22,236 46; on account of Children's Friend, $5,926.76; on account of Earnest Worker, $4,573.82. Donations, or grants of books, tracts, the Earnest

Worker, Children's Friend, &c., have amounted to $4,589.21. So that the sum total of the cash business done is $37,326.25. And the expenses of the Committee's business, including salaries, rent, insurance, stationery, postage, &c., have been $10,848.41. And there is a balance in the Treasurer's hands of $326.40.

The expenses of the Earnest Worker and Children's Friend, from the above figures, would seem to be greater than the receipts: but the Treasurer's books only show the actual cash transactions on account of these journals. Often, orders are received from merchants for these papers, and the subscriptions are charged to them, and hence enter into the regular merchandise account. The Ledger shows the whole transactions on account of these papers. The subscriptions to the Children's Friend have been actually $6,309.25, and to the Earnest Worker, $4,780.87; from which it will be seen that their expenses vary but little from the receipts, and that they actually have paid their own way, with some slight profit.

The business done last year was $32,755.31. Subtracting this sum from $37,326.25, it will be seen that there has been an increase of business this year amounting to $5 570.94.

The contributions of the churches are given at $8,411.05. Of this, $4 589.21 have been used in gratuitous distribution, which leaves $3,821.84 for our business purposes. Of this sum $400 is understood to be for the publication of Dr. Thornwell's writings; $1,518.58 are for the endowment; and there is $1,903.26 which remains, subject to calls for grants of books, tracts, &c., during the coming year.

The endowment was reported last year at $33,489.41. Add the above sum of $1,518.58 to it, and it now stands at $35,207.99.

The assets of the Committee are reported last year at $39,429.15. The value of our present stock and outstanding accounts is $43,694.51. The Committee has claims against it amounting to $3 439.46 which, deducted from the previous sum, shows our net assets to be $40,255.05. This shows an increase of only $825.90 during the year. Deducting the whole of our capital from the assets, there is left a surplus of $5,247.06. This is subject to a deduction of $1 903.26 the amount in our hands for gratuitous distribution; and there is left $3,343.80 as the clear gain which has been made on our invested capital.

During the year there have been printed and bound 37,450 volumes, 500 of which are still at the bindery; 30,000 Catechisms, 5,000 Catalogues, 5,000 pamphlet Hymn Books, 14 000 Tract volumes, 80,000 Tracts, 400,000 envelopes, besides the usual supply of blanks for presbyterial and church purposes, 1,500 copies of the Annual Report, and 88,000 Circulars.

The assets of the Committee, it will be seen, are still greater than the amount of money given us to invest, by the sum of $3,343.80: but the surplus accumulated during previous years has, during the last two years, been a good deal diminished. Some of the reasons for this were assigned in the last Annual Report; but others are to be added.

1st A little over two years ago, owing to a misunderstanding between some of the Northern publishers, all concert of action in the book trade was broken up, and a system of underselling was introduced, which finally resulted in the adoption of a universal custom to grant to all churches and Sabbath schools, as well as ministers, a discount of 20 per cent. on all purchases. The effect of this on the retail book trade has been most disastrous, causing the failure of many houses in every part of the country, and compelling all others, in order to save themselves from a similar fate, to unite the stationery business, the picture and piano trade, the drug business, etc., with their regular book business. The loss to us from this cause was over $3,000 last year, and has not been less than $4,000 this year. In the last Annual Report it was stated that this condition of things could not last, but would force on the Northern publishers an adjustment of this matter on terms more equitable to the retail trade, and more satisfactory to the public. That adjustment has not yet been effected; but within a few weeks some progress has been made toward it. It is believed, before the fall trade opens, that a satisfactory adjustment will be reached, and the great injustice of the present plan will be removed. For, let it be remembered what was stated last year, that at the very time that this universal discount system was introduced, the discounts to the retail trade were also diminished, thus diminishing the retail profits at both ends, and narrowing them down to a point not self-sustaining.

2d. A second reason for the diminishing of our profits arises from the lack of funds to enlarge our publishing operations. Instead of going forward in this department in a manner adequate to the wants of the Church, so stringent has been our financial condition, that it was with great difficulty we could bring out the books announced to the last Assembly. To keep up what we have already done is an absolute necessity, as also to meet the demands of our brethren for books needed by them from time to time; for unless diligence is given to preserve what has been attained, progress would be arrested, and the whole scheme would soon prove a failure. With this view we have kept up our stock. And although the expenses necessary to bring out those works were comparatively small, still, as it required cash, and the cash was not on hand, mortifying delays were experienced. They have all been issued, however, and add much to the value of our list of publications. In this line it had been hoped to do much more than has been accomplished under the new system of operations marked out in the last report, and sanctioned by the General Assembly. But the addition to our capital last spring was so small, only $1,020, that but little could be done. We did, however, all we could.

3d. Another reason for the diminution of our assets, or rather which shows that diminution to be more apparent than real, is found in the fact that the time of the Secretary has been chiefly employed in the preparation of the hymn and tune books under directions given by the last Assembly, and which there can be no doubt will be a source of profit to the Committee for years to come, such as will more than repay the time and expense bestowed upon them. In other words, the Secretary's time and labour, the most incessant and perplexing he has ever had, have been spent on business that will soon begin to manifest its effects, and will come more fully under review in our next report.

4th. Still further, at the beginning of the year, the Committee of Publication resolved on paying the salaries in full of the joint officers of the Committees of Education and Publication, so as to relieve the Committee of Education of all expenses for its officers. This was done because at that time, and during the whole year, the pressure on the Education treasury was very great, and much suffering on the part of our young brethren was anticipated. True, the Committee of Publication was much pressed also. But it was believed that it could weather the storm better than the co-ordinate Committee; and hence that action was taken at the beginning of the year. While this course, there is reason to believe, has been widely approved, some have made objection to it. Hence with this explanation the matter is submitted to the Assembly, to which it belongs to rectify anything done unwisely by its Executive Committees. If the Assembly shall see proper to undo this proceeding, and charge the proportional share of the salaries to the other Committee, it will diminish the deficiency this year about one-half. It is the belief of the Committee, however, that the best interests of the Church will be promoted by allowing what the Committee did in this behalf to stand.

5th. Our ordinary expenses have been increased in the amount of $1,398.11, by reason of advancement of rent and the increasing of our clerical expenses, owing to the growth of our business. It is believed that, for some time to come, our expenses in these respects will not further increase, unless the revival of business, and the increasing demand for business houses, shall cause an advance of rent. This item of expense is a variable quantity that no financial skill nor foresight can control, until the Church shall possess its own publishing house and cease to be dependent in this respect on the fluctuations of trade.

The two excellent little volumes of Dr. Palmer were reported to the last Assembly. The book of Dr. Grasty, and Miss Mary and her Scholars, are now at the bindery.

The works of Dr. Thornwell have been hailed with delight by his former students and his many friends and admirers. They have been gotten up in a style that has elicited the commendation of the secular and religious press, North and South; and which secured for the Committee many expressions of thanks from those who have purchased these books. The third volume of Dr. Thornwell's works has been stereotyped, and the fourth volume is now in the hands of the stereotypers. These volumes, it is hoped, will be issued this fall.

The sale of these books has been very encouraging. About nine hundred copies have been sent out from the publication rooms, and there is good reason to believe that nearly all of these will be sold, though we have not received a return from the sale of a large portion of them; and one firm, which had received a good number of the copies of these works, has partially failed without settling for them.

The other publications named are designed for Sabbath school libraries. The first four of these are original works, and are books of superior order. They are story books, but not sensational; not novelistic. The garb of fiction is employed as it is in the parable and the fable, only to give life and practical point to the truths presented; but there is in none of them anything unlike the actual occurrences of life, or which would excite the young mind to a morbid thirst after the marvellous. The same rule has been observed in selecting for publication the other five books last named, none of which are original. All of them are recommended with confidence as books worthy of a place in our Sabbath school libraries.

OUR PERIODICALS.

The Children's Friend has had a circulation which has slightly varied, but at all times it has been larger than during any previous year. For a time, the circulation of the semi-monthly edition was 25,000, which is 4,000 larger than it had heretofore attained. Chiefly from a lack of promptness on the part of many in renewing their subscriptions in the spring, it fell back again to 23,000. At this time, however, it is once more on the advance, and it is hoped will not stop till it reaches at least thirty thousand. The circulation of the monthly edition has been 3,500.

The circulation of the Earnest Worker has been about 3,400 weekly. The Committee has many evidences of the increasing acceptability of this journal in all parts of the Church; and hopes that still greater efforts will be made to introduce it into the families and Sabbath schools where it does not go. It has been sent, according to the order of the last Assembly, to our ministers, and has been found a most valuable aid to the Committee simply as an advertising medium.

The expenses of the Children's Friend have been less than the receipts; and those of the Earnest Worker have been about equal to the receipts from subscriptions. As the two papers are so closely connected together, and a part of the matter for the Earnest Worker is afterward used in the Children's Friend, their accounts cannot be wholly separated. The fact is, however, that the two papers taken together have sustained themselves during the year, without cost to the Church, with an excess of $589.54. This is very gratifying. Some of the Sabbath school journals of the North, which have been in existence for years, are still an expense to their publishers, who get compensation for their outlay by using their journals as mediums of advertising.

The evidence furnished to us of the usefulness of both of these journals during the past year has been very gratifying. They have been the chief instruments employed by the Holy Spirit in many places in leading sinners to Christ; they have been blessed in stimulating Christian zeal and activity; and several pastors have written us their grateful acknowledgments for the potent influence which they have exerted in exciting or in promoting revivals of religion with which their churches have been blessed. With humble gratitude to God these facts are stated, with the hope that many of our brethren may find in them an incentive to the use of their pens in writing communications for these journals, and thus become co-workers with us, and we trust with Christ also, in the accomplishment of good to many souls.

THE LESSON SYSTEM.

The uniform lesson system has been adhered to, and prosecuted throughout the year. The gospel of Matthew will be finished about the 1st of October. It is time the attention of the Church was directed to the subject, and that a course for the next year should be marked out. The Committee, in this matter, as in all the departments of work given it to accomplish, has no favorite plan or scheme to present or advocate. The question is wholly practical, and should be determined by the wants of the Church. If this Assembly will take the matter in hand, and give us instructions on the subject, it will be well; or, if the wishes of our brethren can be made known in any sure way, the Committee will address itself to the accomplishment of their wishes; and it will be rejoiced, in any manner, to be relieved of the responsibility of determining the matter.

At the first of last year, one of our most respected and energetic Presbyteries requested the Committee to join in the effort made to establish a uniform lesson system for all denominations and for all parts of the country. This was declined at the time, chiefly because it would break in on our own regular course of lessons, which hundreds of schools were using, and which covered the whole of the gospel of Matthew. At the same time the Committee is free to confess that the consecutive study of the Bible is preferred to any eclectic course. Each system, however, has its advantages, and may be used with great usefulness. As this question is one that has to be settled afresh for our next year's course, it is worthy of the most serious consideration. The late "National Sunday School Convention" passed a nearly unanimous resolution in favour of uniform lessons for the whole land, and appointed a committee to digest the scheme. The Southern churches, we believe, were not represented in the Convention, nor are they on this Committee. This would be no good reason for a failure to co-operate, if the thing aimed at was desirable, and if the plan proposed should prove itself unexceptionable. We think, however, that this kind of unity is more fanciful than real; and that the whole movement is one of sentiment rather than principle.

One of the difficulties in the way of the general introduction of our lessons arose from the fact that many of our schools had just gone over the same portions of Scripture which we were using, and did not think it for edification to go immediately over the same ground again. It was to escape from this difficulty, and to open up the way for cordial co-operation with us, that the reverend Presbytery of South Alabama adopted the request referred to above. If the matter is left to the judgment of this Committee by the General Assembly, it is its purpose to try to obviate that difficulty in the course of lessons to be adopted when the present series is through.

THE VOICE OF PRAISE.

The instructions given to the Committee by the last Assembly to prepare a Sabbath school hymn book, received prompt attention, and would have been executed without delay; but it was soon ascertained that the hymn book would not give satisfaction unless it was adapted to the music of the "Songs of Praise." As that could not be, the only alternative was to prepare a new Sabbath school tune book, and at the same time to issue the hymns used in it in a book by themselves. This course was resolved on. The Church was notified of the fact, and the reasons of it; and the aid of all our brethren was requested in every way in which assistance could be rendered by them. The correspondence on this subject was very large, and the work of preparing these books most laborious. The first copy for the tune book, which is to be called "The Voice of Praise," was put into the hands of the stereotypers in September, and has been pressed with all the earnestness that could be exercised. The delay has not been caused by any want of attention to this matter, nor by any cause which could have been prevented by the Secretary or by the Committee. Some delay was occasioned necessarily in reading and returning the music proofs. But the whole cause of any serious delay was the failure of the New York stereotypers to keep their contract and act faithfully with us. At last we have received the plates, and hope to be able to place "The Voice of Praise" on the table of the General Assembly before its adjournment. The "Hymns of the Voice of Praise" will also be ready in a few days. The Committee has reason to hope that these books will meet the necessities and satisfy the general expectations of our brethren engaged in the Sabbath school work, and the approbation of the Church at large. There is no sensational hymn or tune in these books; the music is all elevated and adapted to the services of the Church and the Sabbath day; and the hymns are all suitable for the worship of God, over one hundred of them having been selected from our book of Psalms and Hymns. The variety of subjects is sufficiently great to make it a suitable book to use in the prayer-meeting; which will be a great convenience where the prayer-meeting is conducted in the room in which the Sabbath school meets. A large proportion of the music consists of favourite Church tunes, with which it is desirable our youth should become familiar. If the Sabbath-school is a nursery for the Church, one of the most effective ways in which it can accomplish this portion of its mission is by training the children of the Church to take part in the fellowship of song as it is conducted in the sanctuary. If they can be interested in this part of worship, it will give them a delight to attend on the public ordinances that they may join in its holy minstrelsy. One of the reasons why children in the Sabbath school do not like to go to Church is, that they are trained to a boisterous, sensational, and effervescent style of music in the Sabbath school; and thus their tastes are perverted, so that the refined and elevated melodies used in singing the songs of Zion are insipid and dull to them. In "The Voice of Praise" an effort has been made to correct this evil so far as possible; and hence the Sabbath school music, properly so called, which is contained in it, is of an elevated order, and yet characterized by simplicity, and, along with it, there will be found a very full variety of choice Church tunes.

The Committee has had the aid of many of our brethren and friends, to whom acknowledgments are due; and many of the best musical compositions in the book have been furnished to us by their authors, or we have been permitted to copy them, without compensation. In every instance the proper acknowledgment is made in connection with the pieces. It is right, however, to express our special obligations to the distinguished author, Mrs. Margaret J. Preston, for a number of choice hymns, some for children, some for adults, which adorn the book and add to its value. The Committee also desires to express its obligations to Charles C. Converse, Esq., of New York, who has aided the Secretary in this work by acting as musical editor. Not only did Mr. Converse allow the gratuitous use of such of his own musical compositions as were needed, but he secured for us many of the best pieces in the book by exchanging his own pieces therefor, and thus obtaining them without cost to us. His editorial labour, his time in reading the musical proofs, his own music, and the music secured for us, have all been presented to our Church as a free-will offering by him. For it he deserves the thanks, and we doubt not will receive the grateful acknowledgments of this Assembly and of our people.

HYMN AND TUNE BOOK.

The subject of a hymn and tune book, for the worship of God in the Church, has also secured full attention. A circular was issued, calling for information as to the tunes desired by our ministers and leaders of music throughout the Church. To this a very extensive response was received, and a large number of lists of tunes, such as were favourites in special localities, were furnished. These have been a great assistance to the Committee by enabling it to know which are the general favourites. The course pursued in the preparation of the hymn and tune book was this:

1st. All the psalms and hymns contained in our present book were cut out and pasted in a scrap-book, every metre by itself, in the order in which they are found in our present book. That is, the C. M. psalms and hymns were cut out and pasted in a scrap-book by themselves, placed in the order in which they are found in the hymn book, so that they could be readily referred to. Then the long metres were arranged in a similar manner; and so of the other metres.

2d. All the tunes called for were cut out of the music books in which they were found, and arranged together according to their metres, every metre by itself. On every one of these tunes a mark was made for every time it was asked for in the letters received. The editors were thus enabled to see at a glance what tunes were generally popular, and required for the book. It will be seen, moreover, that every body who saw proper to exercise the right offered of nominating tunes has had an equal chance of exerting an influence in this matter with the chiefest of the brethren.

3d. The rule was adopted to use favourite melodies; that is, those called for, as far as they would supply the necessity; and only to use new tunes where a sufficient number of old and favourite tunes were not called for. The consequence was, that, except in the case of a single hymn, we were able to find existing melodies for everything in our book. Some may consider this a blemish, but it is the voice of the Church, so far as we can gather it from the letters received. There was no other way of judging than this. One thing which commends it to the Committee is, that it throws the responsibility for the character of the work chiefly on the Church itself, and that is the best place for it to rest. It is proper to say, moreover, that the tunes called for most largely are the very best tunes now used in the South and Southwest. Some are new favourites; the most of them are the grand old melodies which have been used in the service of song by the generation that is past; yea, and some of them by many past generations both in the Old and New world. A good deal of new music was furnished us, which was found unsuitable. This arose in several cases from want of experience in the composers; but in most of the other cases it sprang from the fact that the metres chosen were not adapted to our purposes. The unusual metres were often unnoticed by these composers, for which good music would have been acceptable; while the number of good tunes called for, of the old and established metres, left no room for new tunes. Besides, an almost unanimous protest came to us against new tunes. Hence, these manuscripts were turned over for use in the "Voice of Praise." In it will be found a number of new tunes and pieces of music which have been furnished us gratuitously by their respective authors. Some of this new music is of a very superior order. There will, however, be no original music in the hymn and tune book.

The work of compiling this book devolved on the Secretary, with the co-operation of Mr. Converse, who again extended us his gratuitous services as a musical editor for this important work. It has been completed, with much labour and care; and is now undergoing the required examination by the Committee before committing it to the press. After it has been examined, amended if necessary, and approved, it will be stereotyped, and it is hoped can be brought out during the winter.

AID ASKED BY OUR FOREIGN MISSIONARIES.

An application has been received from our missionaries in Brazil to have an edition of the Children's Friend printed with one page or more in the Portuguese language, or it that cannot be done, then to have a supplement printed in that language, the matter to be furnished by the missionaries. The Committee from the first has looked toward the aiding of our foreign missionaries as an appropriate branch of the work given it to do; and hence, on the application of the Choctaw mission, the Choctaw Spelling Book and the Shorter Catechism, in the Choctaw language, were stereotyped and printed for the use of that mission. And now the Choctaw Hymn Book is in process of manufacture, and will soon be ready for shipment. This application points in the same direction with those just referred to, differing from them only in this respect, that it will be a permanent arrangement, involving a regular and periodical expense. The subject is therefore referred to the consideration of the General Assembly, not doubting that it will meet with the most favourable consideration.

Those same beloved missionaries have requested the publication of some tracts in the Portuguese language for their use in circulating the gospel among the people of that immense empire. This the Committee felt prepared to do; but it was necessary to employ some one in Brazil to make an accurate translation of the tracts into the Portuguese language. The state of our funds has not justified our going to this expense; nor is it clear that this would fall properly within the sphere of duty for which this Committee was organized. If the translations could be effected by the mission itself, or through the agency of the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions, this Committee might be authorized to undertake the matter of their publication. Printing can be done much cheaper in this country than in Brazil; and, besides, it is in every way suitable that the various Committees of the Church should become the handmaids of each other, as the joint executive agencies of the General Assembly in the one great work of evangelization, at home and abroad. The subject is one that is full of interest, and fraught with immense consequences to our foreign missionary work. Moreover, it presents in a new and important aspect the enlarging field of usefulness to which this Committee has been called, and which it might joyfully fill, if the requisite funds could be secured. Hence, the whole subject is respectfully referred to the General Assembly for its consideration and advice.

WORKS IN PROGRESS.

In addition to the Sabbath school and Church tune books, the Committee hopes to issue during the year several important works, which it is expected will be brought out without drawing on the ordinary resources of the Committee. Some of these it is desirable to mention:

1. The Spiritual Kingdom By Rev. James B. Ramsey, D. D., late pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Lynchburg, Va.

This will be an octavo volume of about 450 pages, which it is proposed to furnish to subscribers at $2.50 per volume, gotten up in the same style as Dr. Thornwell's Writings. The retail price, however, will be $3. This work, it is believed, will be considered a most valuable addition to our American theological literature. Not only has the manuscript been examined and fully approved by the Committee, according to the rule given us by the Assembly, but it has been carefully read with much pleasure and decided commendation by several of the leading theological professors of our Church, also by several pastors and other ministers. The voice of commendation has been universal; and all have agreed in the one point, that there is no treatise extant which makes so profitable a practical use of this portion of the Divine word. It is expected to bring out this volume during the summer. It is now in the hands of the stereotypers.

2. Children of the Covenant; or, The Faithfulness of a Covenant-keeping God, illustrated in the lives and deaths of Andrew Hart, Sarah Ward, and Mary Clarissa, children of the Rev. A. H. Kerr, D. D. With words of counsel to Christian parents, and an address to the baptized children of the Church. By Rev. T. D. Witherspoon, D. D., recently pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Memphis, Tenn.

This little volume will be read with interest and profit by all Christians, and is a book suitable for adults and for children. No one can read the simple narratives of the lives and deaths of these children of the covenant, written in the chaste and unaffected style of Dr. Witherspoon, without emotion. The effect of this book will be great in arousing the zeal of parents and strengthening their faith, as they labour for the salvation of their children, and in leading children to solemn reflection. The pungent and able addresses to parents and to children which accompany the narratives will intensify these impressions.

3. Questions on the Acts, on the Basis of Dr. J. A. Alexander's Commentary on the Acts. By Rev. Wm. T. Hall, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Canton, Miss.

No book which the Committee has ever published has received a more thorough examination. Before laying it before the Committee, the author submitted it to the examination of the Rev. Dr. John N. Waddell, Chancellor of the University of Mississippi, who went over it carefully, and compared it with the commentary of Dr. Alexander. After receiving the manuscript, but before referring it for examination, the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Alexander, Professor of New Testament Literature in Union Theological Seminary, and author of the life of Dr. J. A. Alexander, was requested to examine the work, and give the Committee his judgment as to the value of the book and the utility of its publication. This he was kind enough to do with great care, and as the result, he gave it his unqualified recommendation. The manuscript was then referred to three members of the Committee, according to the standing rule of the Assembly, and on their report it was unanimously approved for publication. It was resolved, however, that the time of its publication should be made a matter of future consideration; partly because of the lack of funds; but also because it is desirable to secure the co-operation of the publishers of Dr. Alexander's Commentaries in the issuing of the question book, if that can be effected.

THE ENDOWMENT.

The subject of annual recurrence and disappointment is the Endowment Fund. The progress in raising it has been very slow, and it comes in, in such small sums as to render it impossible to adopt any scheme, or project any wise or productive policy on the basis of it. In the process of years, as the matter now goes forward, the full sum of $50,000 will be secured; but coming in, in the manner it does, it cannot be invested in the business of the Committee, on any enlarged scheme of operations.

The Church does not seem to be fully awake to the importance of the subject. For what reason, it is impossible to tell. It is too late in the nineteenth century to call in question the potency of the press as an instrument for good and for evil. If not used to promote every good work, and to make known the gospel, it is sure it will nevertheless be used to sow the seeds of error broadcast throughout the land and throughout the world; and that our own children will be affected by the poison. The Committee regrets that it has not been able to do more in sending abroad the living page, to carry its messages of salvation as leaves of the tree for the healing of the nations. It has regretted that at least the whole sum of the annual contributions of the churches could not be devoted to this blessed work. It has done all that it could; and therewith has had to be content.

It is time, however, to look at this subject afresh. Is it wise or economical, or in any sense suitable, to allow this matter of the endowment to drag its slow length along? Is it not becoming derogatory to the cause that it should be treated as it has been by large portions of the Church? Some parts of the Church have done admirably well. Especially the great Southwestern cities, New Orleans, Mobile, Memphis, and Nashville, are deserving of the gratitude of the Church; for, had it not been for their large contributions, together with the donation of $3,000 by the late John McKown, and of $1,000 by the late James Silliman, both of Louisiana, this Committee could not have entered on its work on the enlarged scale of operations which was adopted at the beginning. Since then, some of our Presbyteries, by their annual contributions, have reached their full proportion of the endowment, according to a pro rata apportionment of it. And while some of the oldest and largest Presbyteries have come very far short, in manifesting their interest in this work, and in making contributions to it, the young and vigorous, though small Presbytery of Central Ohio, raised, without difficulty and without delay, its full share of the amount needed to be raised to complete the endowment, one year ago. Had the other Presbyteries felt the same zeal, there is no doubt they had, all of them, at least the ability of this young and feeble Presbytery; and the work could have been effected at once. This was not the case, however. The first statement of the proportion to be raised by each Presbytery was made, by order of the Assembly of 1870, on the basis of the amount still required at that time to complete the endowment. Only two or three Presbyteries reached their proportion, and the whole effort was a signal failure. The Presbytery of Central Ohio, however, raised its full share; and as it was actually organized several years after the establishment of this Committee, it thinks the claims against it cannot justly be made to ante-date its own existence, in which view this Committee concurs. Under the order of the last Assembly to make a statement of the actual proportion which every part of the Church had given to the full endowment, dividing the whole sum of $50,000 per capita, the name of that Presbytery necessarily occurred, and the sum with which it was credited gave it the appearance of delinquency. This statement is therefore made to do it justice, and also to hold it up to the Church with approbation for its promptness and fidelity in meeting its full obligations.

Let it be observed, however, that in no case has any assessment been made either by the Assembly or the Committee. Those tabular statements have been made, simply for the information of the Church, under the order of the Assembly, with the hope that they might excite the ministers and churches to renewed zeal and activity in this cause.

Coming in, as the endowment is now doing, it will not accomplish what is desirable. If an effort could again be made, such as was made by the Secretary in the Southwest six years and a half ago, before opening his office in this city, and subsequently renewed by our agent, the Rev. A. P. Silliman; if large contributions could be obtained in special localities, where the ability of our people is the greatest, for the completion of the endowment, and, indeed, for its enlargement (for the sum of $50,000 will be a scant allowance for the accomplishing of the work that ought to be done by our Church through this Committee), it would be a great thing for the Church itself, by opening a still wider door of usefulness before this Committee. But again, let it be observed that it is becoming a matter of increasing importance that we should possess a building of our own for a publishing house. There never will be a time when this can be done so cheaply as now; and if liberal hearts can be found to furnish the requisite capital, it could be used to great advantage in carrying on our work, and would be an investment of constantly increasing value.

THE WORK BEFORE US.

Could all this be done, there is a great work before us:

1st. The supplying of our Sabbath schools with every kind of facility. This ought to be done by ourselves as a Church. No authors, no publishers, no Church can supply our wants as we can do it ourselves, if the means were at hand. The necessity of our doing so is becoming greater, instead of becoming less. The inappropriateness of the publications of other houses which we can command to supply our wants, and suit our tastes as a Church and a people, manifests itself every day, and calls for increasing vigilance and activity to prevent the fountains of fanaticism and error from overflowing our Sabbath schools and churches.

2d. The list of tracts and tract volumes for gratuitous distribution among the destitute, and for the use of pastors during times of revival, ought to be very largely increased. No object could be more important.

3d. It ought to be a constant policy of the Church, in connection with this Committee, to aid our foreign missionaries to the full extent of its capacity for so doing, by printing for them tracts, books, and papers for their use, and thus unite the two great agencies of the Church, for foreign missions and for publication, each in its appropriate sphere, in proclaiming the gospel among the heathen.

4th. The gradual establishment of a home theological literature for our Church, illustrative of its principles, its learning, and its position, ought constantly to be kept in view, and steadily to be prosecuted.

5th. There is a constant demand now for small works, to set forth our doctrines and polity, in such manner as our peculiar circumstances require. On every branch of the subject treatises are extant; but every one of them grew out of former existing necessities, and fail to supply our exact wants. Treatises of this kind are constantly called for, and could be readily supplied by our own divines, if the Committee had the means at its command for their publication.

This view of the subject shows that the work before the Committee and the Church, in this department of effort, is great. Much has been attained. For this let us render thanks unto the King and Head of the Church, whose blessing has enabled us to accomplish it. Much remains to be done. By past success, and the assured evidences we have enjoyed of the blessing of God, let us take courage and address ourselves to what is before us with renewed zeal, increasing energy, and enlarged liberality. The work is not ours, but Christ's: to Him we may safely commit the cause, and joyfully await what He has in store for us, with full confidence that He who doeth all things well, and is always present with His Church, will bring to pass great results, whereof the city of our God shall be made glad.

All of which is respectfully submitted by order of the Committee.

E. T. BAIRD,

Secretary of Publication.

C. GENNET, Treasurer.

The undersigned, charged with that duty by the Publication Committee of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, having examined the accounts of the Treasurer, find them correct, and the balance in his hands on the 30th of April, 1872, was three hundred and twenty-six dollars and forty cents.

THOS. L. PRESTON,)

ERRATA.

The Secretary of Publication desires to call attention to an apparent discrepancy between the financial statement given in the annual report, and the statement of disbursements by the Treasurer. The grants of books, tracts, and papers, are given by the Treasurer at $6,707.25, which is $2,118.04 greater than it is given in the annual report; and the cash expenses on account of the Earnest Worker are given at $2,455.58, which is $2,118.24 less than the sum mentioned in the report; and the difference between these two items of 20 cents arose from a clerical error in transcribing. Moreover, the merchandise account is given in the annual report $131.22 more than it is in the Treasurer's account.

The cause of these apparent discrepancies was the fact, that at the time when these reports should have been prepared the health of the Secretary was such as to prevent the possibility of their preparation; and when he came to write his report, on behalf of the Committee, he obtained a memorandum from the Treasurer's books of his disbursements, which was right to a fraction as to the sum total, but the classification of these expenses was inaccurate, since $2,118.04, which were included in the cash expenses of the Earnest Worker, ought to have been added to the amount of grants for gratuitous distribution; and $131.22 were included in the merchandise account, which ought to have been given in a separate item as expenses for colporteurs. Moreover, a portion of the expenses of the Earnest Worker are included in the expenses for merchandise, especially the paper bills. The Ledger shows the statement of the report to be correct, that the two journals have paid expenses, with a slight profit. The carefully prepared report of the Treasurer, as audited by the Committee, and also by the Assembly, and verified by his vouchers, for the reason already stated, was not prepared in time for the Secretary to see it, and rectify his statements accordingly, before submitting the annual report to the Assembly.

These corrections present our finances in a much more favourable light than is claimed in the annual report. For, if we take the two items for colporteur expenses and gratuitous distribution, together amounting to $6,838.47, from the whole amount of receipts from the churches, viz: $8,411.05, there is left for business purposes $1,572.58. If we had paid our way, our assets would have been increased that much. The increase, however, is only $825.90. The deficit, therefore, is only $746.68, instead of being over $3,000, as intimated in the annual report.

 REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

Your Trustees ask leave to submit this Report, embracing such matters as have transpired since the last report, which to them seem to be of sufficient importance to be communicated.

The report intended to be submitted at the last Assembly was prepared, but, for the want of a quorum at the annual meeting, was not adopted, and hence not submitted to you.

The matters referred by the General Assembly to the Trustees have been attended to, and the instructions carried out.

The eleventh By-Law has been amended by striking out the words "such place as the Trustees may appoint at an annual meeting," and inserting "Charlotte, N. C.," and by striking out "second" and inserting "first" as to the time of meeting.

As to the provisions of the charter, which constitute the Executive Committee of the Assembly, branches of the corporation, and the appointment of "the Secretaries of Education, Foreign Missions, Publication and Sustentation ex officio Trustees," upon which the Trustees are called upon to give expression of an opinion, the Trustees would, with great respect, say that there seems to be much obscurity and doubt in the matter. How the Committees of the Church are to constitute branches or parts of the corporation is difficult to conceive; or how they are to move and act with co-ordinate powers is difficult to understand. It is believed that the corporation that the Trustees represent is intended to serve the purposes of the whole Church, and must act single and alone as one person, subject to the control and instructions of the General Assembly, whose agent it is, and nothing else. Although the Executive Committees, according to the terms of the charter, are to be considered "as branches of the corporation," it is in the light of corporators that they are to be so considered. It is clear from the charter that these "Committees" are to be specially regarded by the corporation, and all their rights carefully secured to them. That all "gifts, grants, sales, devises, or requests that shall be made to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States," "for the use of such Committees, boards, or agencies," "shall be good and effectual to pass to such objects whenever the donor, grantor, bargainer, or testator shall name the aforesaid corporation in general terms." To give to the Executive Committees legal existence, would make them corporate bodies, with right and power to sue and be sued, to hold property, and to exercise control thereof, independent of any other authority, which it can hardly be believed was the intention of the Legislature of the State of North Carolina, or the wish of the Church. Your Trustees see no objection to the appointment of the Secretaries of the Executive Committees, Trustees, and think that under the circumstances that it is the best that can be done, and that the charter in this respect should not be changed.

At the meeting of your respected body in May, 1870, the memorial of Jesse G. Wallace, Esq., in relation to Maryville College, was referred to the Trustees, with instructions to them "to investigate the claim therein mentioned, and to take such steps as to them may seem expedient and proper to assert and secure the rights of the General Assembly in the premises." This memorial has not been placed in the hands of the Trustees, and the facts stated therein are unknown, but the matter having come to the knowledge of the Trustees from reading the minutes of the General Assembly, inquiry has been made into the matter. It appears that the College was founded in 1819 by the Synod of Tennessee, and at first was called the Southern and Western Theological Seminary, afterwards Maryville College. It seems to have been incorporated, having a Constitution which was adopted by the said Synod, one of the provisions of which was, that the Trustees and Professors should be members in full communion in the Presbyterian Church. The Board of Trustees consist of thirty-six members, two-thirds ministers and one-third laymen. The said Synod has the sole power of appointing the Trustees. It seems that the legal right to the property is in the Synod of Tennessee, or the Trustees appointed by the said Synod; that our Church never has had, and is not likely to have, any right to the property.

In the annual report of your Trustees of May, 1870, you were informed of the will of Judge W. E. Kennedy, of Columbia, in the State of Tennessee, under which a legacy was given to the General Assembly of our Church. Since that time legal proceedings were commenced and prosecuted by certain persons claiming to be heirs at law of the testator, seeking to set aside the will, and to declare the gift to the Church void, on various grounds. Counsel was employed to defend the will, and an answer in our behalf was filed and our interest defended; the case has been tried, and the decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Tennessee has been rendered, sustaining the will and establishing the rights of the Church, to the full extent of the claim. We have not yet been informed of the accounting with the executors of the will, but we are led to believe that the interest of the Church will amount to ten or twelve thousand dollars.

A copy of the ninth clause of the will, under which the General Assembly takes its interest, is appended to this report, to which you are referred for more particular information as to the provisions of the will.

In obedience to the instructions of the last General Assembly, application was made to the Legislature of North Carolina to amend the charter of incorporation, so as to enable the Trustees to hold the funds that may be contributed for the relief of the widows and children of deceased ministers, and for other eleemosynary objects of the Church, which application was granted and the charter amended in the first section between the words, "learning" and "and," insert "for the relief of invalid ministers and the widows and children of deceased ministers and all other benevolent objects of the Church."

All which is respectfully submitted by order of the Board.

THOS. C. PERRIN, President.

COPY OF THE "NINTH ITEM" OF JUDGE KENNEDY'S WILL.

"All the residue of my estate of whatever kind, whether real, personal, or mixed, left, after carrying out the foregoing provisions of this will, and if any legacy I have given or fund appropriated in this will, cannot, for any cause whatever, take effect or be appropriated as herein directed, the same shall constitute a part of said residuum, and be subject to the dispositions of this clause. I give to my executors to be appropriated as follows: One thousand dollars to the proper authorities of the Union Theological Seminary, at Prince Edward Courthouse, Virginia; one thousand dollars to the Rev. W. McLean and Rev. R. R. Gurley, Secretaries of the American Colonization Society, in Washington, D. C., and their successor or successors, to be by them held and used in promoting the objects, purposes, and enterprises of said society in colonizing negroes in Liberia, Africa. Five hundred dollars to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the Confederate States of America, or of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church South, whatever may be its precise title, for the benefit of such Bible Society as has been or may be established by said General Assembly, and five hundred dollars to said General Assembly for the benefit of such Tract Society as has been, or may be established by said Assembly, and if no such society should be established by said Church, or be in existence under its control, then said sums severally to be used by said General Assembly through its proper Boards or Committees already, or to be appointed, or such agencies as it may deem best for the promotion and advancement of the cause of Domestic Missions; one-half of the remaining third of said balance to go to said General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Confederate States of America, to be by said Assembly appropriated through its board, committee, or other agency under its control, to the uses, purposes, and benefits of Foreign Missions; the remaining half of the said third to go in like manner to said Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Confederate States of America for the benefit of the Board of Education and Publication in equal proportions, and if said Church should have no such boards or committees for these objects, then through such agencies as such Church may establish and control to carry out and promote said objects. When I use the term General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Confederate States of America, or General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church South, I mean to be understood as referring to the Old School Presbyterian Church in the South, and should any part thereof re-unite with the Northern Church, I mean the part that shall remain as a separate body in the South. I desire said General Assembly, through its proper boards, committees, or agencies, in its disposition of the funds herein set apart to Domestic Missions, to select one of the four tribes of Indians, to wit: the Cherokees, Choctaws, Chickasaws, or Creeks, four male, and four female youths, and to appropriate of the said funds the sum of one thousand dollars for the education of said Indian youths."

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, AT COLUMBIA, S. C.

The Board of Directors of the Theological Seminary, at Columbia, report to the General Assembly that this institution is in a highly encouraging condition.

The number of students in attendance during the year just closed was fifty, the greatest number we have had since the close of the war.

The following young brethren have just completed their course with credit to themselves and their instructors, viz:

W. S. Bean, J. C. Grow, O. M. Green, L. S. Handley, F. M. Howell, Milton C. Hutton, J. Johnson, T. C. Johnson, A. R. Kennedy, W. LeConte, T. C. Ligon, J. W. Query, W. T. Thompson.

The report of the Faculty will bring before the Assembly many particulars connected with the internal history of the Seminary, which could not be appropriately embodied in a report like this.

The venerable A. W. Leland, D. D., the Emeritus Professor of Pastoral Theology and Sacred Rhetoric, departed this life November 2d, 1871, full of years and ripe for the great and glorious change.

The health of Professor James Woodrow having been in a feeble condition for some time past, it is believed that travel and relaxation from his arduous duties might do much towards the re-establishment of his health, and his continuance in a chair which he has filled with marked ability; and the Board of Directors would therefore respectfully request the General Assembly to grant him leave of absence for one year, if so long a time should be needed.

Our noble library of more than 18,000 volumes is receiving annually small additions of useful books.

Our accommodations for students are ample. Our chairs of instruction are all filled, and our prospects are most hopeful.

(Signed,)

DONALD McQUEEN,
Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Mecklin and Mr. Washburn, of the Middle Class of last year, did not return to the Seminary. The former is now pastor of Hopewell church, in the Presbytery of Central Mississippi, the latter is laboring as an evangelist in the Presbytery of Savannah.

The exercises of the Seminary have continued without interruption during the year, except so far as affected by Dr. Woodrow's impaired health, and the students have been diligently engaged in the required studies. Their interest in Foreign Missions has continued unabated, and three of the class who have just completed their studies have offered themselves for the foreign field.

The boarding hall has been successfully conducted by Mrs. Waddell as matron, under the superintendence of a committee of students, and by their good management, and the timely aid of friends who have contributed supplies for their table, and by the contribution of several hundred dollars from benefactors at the North, board has been afforded at a very moderate price.

Our venerable colleague, the Rev. Dr. Leland, who had been disabled from active service for some years by physical infirmity, passed away from earth on the 2nd of November last, and entered into that rest which he had waited for so long.

There has been an encouraging increase in the number of students during the year, but it has not yet overtaken the increasing wants of the Church.

Respectfully submitted.

GEO. HOWE, Chairman.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, Columbia, S. C., May 8th, 1872.

ANNUAL REPORT OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, VIRGINIA. TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Trustees of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, (who are also Directors,) respectfully submit to the General Assembly this their Annual REPORT.

The Annual meeting was held on the 7th and 8th days of May, 1872, and was unusually full; nineteen of the twenty-three members were present. Messrs. L. McKinnon, W. T. Richardson, A. G. McIlwaine, and C. L. Peyton were absent.

When we review the past history of this Seminary and consider its present condition, we have great cause to thank God and to take courage.

Sixty-two students, representing ten of the United States, have been attending the instructions of this Institution during the past year. Twenty of this number have finished the course of study prescribed by the Constitution. This is the largest number which has ever graduated at any one period of our history.

The reports of the Examining Committee give gratifying evidence of the commendable fidelity of the Faculty and diligence on the part of the students.

Valuable additions have been made to the library during the past year, and eight thousand three hundred and thirty volumes of well-selected standard works are on the shelves.

The finances are in a healthy and prosperous condition. With devout gratitude to Him, from whom all blessings flow, we record the fact that thirty thousand dollars in public securities were added to the permanent funds, in September last, by a generous donation of Mr. Henry Young, of New York.

Further details will be appended by the Secretary.

By order of the Board.

WILLIAM BROWN, President.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF THE TRUSTEES OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY,
Farmville, Va., May 10, 1872.

To the Rev'd the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States :

I respectfully transmit herewith the annual report of our Corporation. An unusual amount of business engaged the attention of the Trustees, at their annual meeting, and their deliberations were extended to a late hour. It was impracticable to make, what was desired, a fuller report. At the special request of the Trustees, I append such details and facts as may be pertinent and acceptable to the Church.

The official corps consist of the following gentlemen, viz :

Rev. Wm. Brown, D. D., President; Rev. J. Rumble and A. G. McIlwaine, Esq., Vice-Presidents; F. N. Watkins, (Farmville, Va.) Treasurer and Secretary; Drs. Brown and Charles H. Read, Messrs. E. N. Hutcheson, A. G. McIlwaine, E. M. Armstrong, Executive Committee; Messrs. Armstrong and Summey, Auditors; Messrs. Pnarr, Hill, Summey, C. White, Martin and Armstrong, Examining Committee; Rev. B. M. Smith, Librarian; Rev. T. E. Peck, Intendant; Rev. R. L. Dabney, Clerk to the Faculty. The post office address of the Faculty and students is Hampden Sidney, Va.; that of the Treasurer and Secretary is Farmville, Va.

The Faculty is composed of the following Professors, viz: Rev. R. L. Dabney, D. D., Rev. B. M. Smith, D. D., Rev. T. E. Peck, D. D., and Rev. H. C. Alexander, D. D.

The sixty-two students of the Collegiate year 1871-2, were citizens of the following States, viz: 22 from Virginia, 14 from North Carolina, 8 from Tennessee, 4 from Kentucky, 3 from Missouri, 2 from Texas, 1 from Maryland, 6 from West Virginia, 1 from Alabama, 1 from Mississippi.

The graduating class were Messrs. H. M. Anderson, Missouri; J. Boyle, Kentucky; J. C. Cannon, Virginia; G. L. Cocke, Virginia; L. W. Currie, North Carolina; W. H. Davis, North Carolina; W. C. Dyer, Missouri; E. C. Gordon, Virginia; A. T. Graybill, Virginia; C. L. Hogue, Kentucky; J. C. Painter, Virginia; C. M. Payne, North Carolina; W. N. Scott, West Virginia; A. C. Snoddy, Tennessee; R. M. Tuttle, North Carolina; J. S. Watkins, Virginia; F. B. Webb, Alabama; E. L. Wilson, West Virginia; W. Irvine, Kentucky.

The corporation holds the following securities, as investments and cash, as appears by the Treasurer's annual balance sheet :

State of Virginia 6's.....	$135,195 00
“ North Carolina (part loaned).....	19,147 00
“ Georgia.....	12,000 00

	$229,846 03

A portion of these investments are for the present unproductive of revenues, yet a sufficiency of income was received during the fiscal year ending 1st May to meet the salaries and current expenses. In addition to salaries of Professors, and expenses for repairs, &c., the Treasury is responsible for interest and cash on $55,958.52 to the Library and Library Hall, Scholarship and small accounts, (such as directors' expenses,) and incidental expenses, such as small salaries to assistant Librarian and Intendant.

The securities and cash being.....	$229,846 03
Deducting therefrom amount due scholarships, library, &c.....	55,958 52
Will approximate the investments.....	173,887 51

We have thirteen complete and incomplete Scholarships, varying from $4,000 to $100. Authority was given to the Treasurer to consolidate those which are incomplete. Within the past few days I have received notice from the executor of the late Mrs. Rebecca C. Park, of Tennessee, of a bequest by her of one thousand dollars to found the “Park Scholarship.” By the aid of the accruing revenue from these Scholarships, young men, who could not otherwise prosecute their professional studies, are sent out from the Seminary, from time to time, into fields of usefulness, and render valuable services to the Church.

The Trustees gave due consideration to several subjects, having reference to the comfort and convenience of the students of the next collegiate year, commencing on the 9th September, 1872.

Very respectfully,

F. N. WATKINS,
Secretary.

THE REVISED BOOK OF DISCIPLINE.

The General Assembly at Louisville having referred to the original Committee on Revision all the proposed amendments by the Presbyteries sent up to that body to be examined and incorporated in the New Book, according to the mind of the majority of the Church as therein indicated, which in its amended form should be reported back to the Assembly, that Committee have discharged the duty imposed on them to the best of their ability, and would submit the following statement:

Of the fifty-five Presbyteries on the roll of the Assembly in 1870, returns were received from forty-nine. Upon a deliberate and careful examination of these papers, we find that seven Presbyteries expressed decided disapprobation of the Revised Book, viz: Fayetteville, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montgomery, North Mississippi, Tombeckbee, and Transylvania.

Two Presbyteries expressed general disapproval, with approbation of some portions of the Revision. These are Muhlenburg and Atlanta. The former considered the time inauspicious, and rejected the Book as a whole, but expressly commends two portions of it. The latter declined to adopt as a whole, but expressed approbation of 19 important items.

Eleven Presbyteries declared their inability at that time, from one cause or another, to give an intelligent, harmonious, or decided vote, and therefore postponed the matter. These were Bethel, Brazos, Central Mississippi, Central Texas, Harmony, Macon, North Alabama, Orange, Paducah, South Alabama, and West Lexington. Three of these eleven, viz: Bethel, Harmony, and Orange, were very strong in their expressions of desire to have the revision continued, and the Book divided into portions, so that the Presbyteries might have full opportunity to examine it before any decision.

The remaining twenty-nine, viz: Abingdon, Arkansas, Augusta, Charleston, Central Ohio, Cherokee, Concord, East Hanover, Eastern Texas, Florida, Greenbrier, Holston, Indian, Knoxville, Lexington, Mecklenburg, Memphis, Nashville, New Orleans, Ouachita, Red River, Roanoke, Savannah, South Carolina, Tuscaloosa, Western District, West Hanover, Wilmington, and Winchester, may be classed together as all favoring the New Book, either as it stands or as it might be made by further emendation. Twelve of these Presbyteries, viz: Abingdon, Arkansas, Augusta, Charleston, East Hanover, Greenbrier, Lexington, New Orleans, Roanoke, Savannah, Tuscaloosa, and West Hanover, devoted very great attention to the consideration of the Revision, and sent up full and most valuable suggestions for its improvement. Others of the number were less full and minute in their examination, or rather, perhaps they found less to object to and amend. Several of these twenty-nine are very strong in their testimony to the excellence of the Revised Book, while others say nothing in its favour but only labour to make it better—but most of them evince a deep sense of the necessity of proceeding with deliberation, and allowing ample time for the Presbyteries to criticize and amend, with a view to securing in the end, if possible, a harmonious conclusion on the part of the whole Church.

Touching the emendations proposed by these Presbyteries, it affords your Committee lively satisfaction to report that not one of them evinced any capriciousness, but all evidently were intended to promote the acceptableness of the Revision; and that, as we suppose, nine out of ten of all the changes proposed—perhaps we might say nineteen out of twenty—were such as would commend themselves to the immediate and unquestioning adoption of every Presbyterian. The Committee cannot say that they have incorporated in the New Book every change suggested, because they were not instructed by the Assembly to accommodate the Book to every suggestion which any one or two or three Presbyteries might make—but to follow, as well as they could, “the mind of the majority in the Church as therein indicated.”

The result of the corrections of these Presbyteries has been of course to make the Book very much the better. They certainly have operated greatly to make it more than it ever was before the product of any one man or of any ten men, but, in a very just sense, of the whole Church. If we were called on to say how many of our ministers and elders have from the beginning contributed to bring the Book to its present shape and condition, we would have to count them, as we believe, by hundreds.

The Committee would, in accordance with the wish expressed by a number of Presbyteries, report now to the Assembly for its action only the Rules of Discipline. It is believed that that portion of the Book has been so long before the Church, and so much discussed, that the mind of the whole body is somewhat definitely settled concerning it—at least that it is not more, than the next fall and spring Presbyteries will be able to dispose of.

Your Committee propose to retain the Form of Government in their hands until they can with due care affix to it the necessary proof texts. In the meantime the Presbyteries and the ministers and elders of our Church should have the privilege, we conceive, of suggesting any further emendations which may occur to them.

For the Committee of Revision.

JOHN B. ADGER, Chairman.

PRAYER FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

WHEREAS the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States fully recognizes the efficacy of the prayers of God's people, and the necessity for divine guidance in its own deliberations; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the General Assembly recommend to all the churches under its care to offer special prayer during the devotions of the Sabbath preceding the meeting of the General Assembly in each year, that God would of great mercy so give the General Assembly the wisdom that cometh from above, and so direct all its plans, discussions, and decisions, as to promote His own glory, and advance the kingdom of Jesus in the earth.

Resolved, 2. That the above preamble and resolution be printed annually in the Appendix to the Minutes of the Assembly.

MODERATORS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FROM 1861 TO 1872.

- 1861. Rev. Benjamin M. Palmer, D. D., LL. D., Louisiana.
- 1862. Rev. John L. Kirkpatrick, D. D., North Carolina.
- 1863. Rev. James A. Lyon, D. D., Mississippi.
- 1864. Rev. John S. Wilson, D. D., Georgia.
- 1865. Rev. George Howe, D. D., LL. D., South Carolina.
- 1866. Rev. Andrew H. Kerr, D. D., Tennessee.
- 1867. Rev. Thomas V. Moore, D. D., Virginia.
- 1868. Rev. John N. Waddel, D. D., Mississippi.
- 1869. Rev. Stuart Robinson, D. D., Kentucky.
- 1870. Rev. Robert L. Dabney, D. D., Virginia.
- 1871. Rev. Wm. S. Plumer, D. D., LL. D., South Carolina.
- 1872. Rev. Thomas R. Welch, D. D., Arkansas.

STATED CLERKS FROM 1861 TO 1872.

- 1861. Rev. John N. Waddel, D. D.
- 1865. Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, D. D.

PERMANENT CLERKS FROM 1861 TO 1872.

- 1861. Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, D. D.
- 1865. Rev. William Brown, D. D.

STATED CLERKS OF PRESBYTERIES

ARE EARNESTLY REQUESTED

1. To make their Annual Reports to the Assembly. If they have no printed blanks, let the reports be made after the form on the opposite page. Blanks can always be obtained on application to the Executive Committee of Publication.

2. To make their Reports in fair, distinct writing, especially the columns of figures.

3. To make them as accurate and full as possible. If, in any instance, churches do not report to Presbyteries, it is desirable that their number of communicants should be inserted from their last report.

4. To report no cents in the money columns.

5. To add up each column of figures with care. Many still neglect this, and thus oblige the Clerk of the Assembly to do what they should do themselves.

6. To append to the statistics of Presbyteries a brief account of the changes which have occurred during the year, such as the number of licensures, ordinations, installations, dismissions of pastors, organization of new churches, and the names of ministers deceased.

7. To transmit their reports to the Stated Clerk, either at the meeting of the Assembly, or at Columbia, S. C., not later than the 20th day of May.

 Blank forms for Sessional Reports, or for any other purpose, are not furnished by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, but are kept for sale by the Executive Committee of Publication, by order of the Assembly of 1867.

TO THE STATED CLERKS OF SYNODS.

It is the duty of these officers to send up to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly an Annual Report, stating the number of Presbyteries, Ministers, Churches, Licentiates, and Candidates, within their bounds; and particularly all changes which have been made in the arrangement of Presbyteries. It is also their duty to transmit to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly a notice of the time and place of the meetings of their respective Synods.

FORM OF PRESBYTERIAL REPORT TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Presbytery of Licentiates and report to the General Assembly that they consist of Ministers, and have under their care Churches,

Candidates, viz :

MINISTERS, LICENTIATES, AND CANDIDATES.	POST OFFICES.	CHURCHES.	Funds Collected.
			Miscellaneous.	Congregational.	Pastors' Salaries	Invalid Fund.	Publication.	Education.	Foreign Mis- sions.	Sustentation.

			Infants.
			Adults.
			Total of Communicants.
			Added on Certificate.
			Added on Examination.
										Add up, omitting cents.

23 Follow the above with a statement of licenses, ordinations, installations, pastoral relations dissolved, churches organized or dissolved, or received or dismissed to other denominations, and ministers received or dismissed to other denominations, or removed by death, since last Report.

Dated, _____, Signed, _____, Stated Clerk.

Give the names of licentiates, but only the number of candidates, without name. It is earnestly requested that the above order of columns may be strictly followed, and that the columns may all be carefully added up. To ministers who are pastors, annex P.; to stated supplies, S. S.; to Domestic Missionaries, D. M.; to Foreign Missionaries, F. M.; to Presidents of Colleges, Pres.; to Professors in Colleges or Theological Seminaries, Prof., to Agents, Ag. To congregations which have pastors, annex P.; to those which have stated supplies, *S. ERRATA.—In the Statistical Tables, a few important errors occurred in the number of Candidates. There should have been reported from the Presbyteries of East Alabama, 3; South Alabama, 3; Tuscaloosa, 3; Ouachita, 4; Cherokee, 2; Tombeckbee, 2; and Charleston, 1. These are, however, included in the "General View." In the Presbytery of Ebenezer, the number of Churches should be 23, instead of 32.
